Army Discloses Proof Of Atrocities by Reds During War in Korea

Interviewing Of Prisoners May Resume

Change in Attitude Of Anti-Reds Hinted By Truce Supervisor

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The promise of a surprising announcement tomorrow touched off reports here today that balky anti-Communist Korean prisoners have agreed to abandon their stubborn refusal to attend interviews with Red explainers.

Communist demands that the Koreans be forced to attend—at gunpoint if necessary—have all but wrecked the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission.

'Surprising' Announcement

Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, Indian chairman of the deadlocked commission, touched off the speculation with a cryptic statement that he would have a "surprising" announcement Friday.

Neither Thimayya nor other Indian officers would amplify his remarks.

But a reliable source said the announcement would concern the reluctant 7,800 North Korean prisoners.

Their agreement to attend Red efforts to persuade them to return to their Red-dominated homelands would be a major victory for Thimayya. The Indian general has fought to prevent a blowup of the NNRC while striving to convince North Korean POWs they should attend.

Explanations have been stalled 10 days.

A surprising announcement could, of course, take several other forms.

Reds Hold Out

The Communist Polish and Czech members of the deadlocked NNRC could drop their demand that Indian troops use whatever force necessary to make the North Koreans attend explanations.

The Swiss and Swedish members could drop their opposition to using force.

Thimayya, who has consistently taken the position that force cannot be used on the North Koreans unless it is unanimously okayed by the entire commission, could change his mind, agree with the Polish and Czech delegations, and on a 3-2 vote declare that force would be used.

Any one of these could happen but no one here believed they would.

The Communists also could decide to explain to 14,600 Chinese POWs while the North Korean POW problem remained deadlocked. That, too, was considered unlikely.

GASOLINE SHORTAGE NO PROBLEM. When the shortage of gasoline caught up with many Britons in the current strike, Lilo Blum of Knightsbridge, London, simply employed the services of a donkey. Here she rides the donkey along a London shopping district. Her purchases, of course, go into the basket.

West Readies Demand for Israel Action

Urge Security Council Rebuke on Killings, Ask More 'Watchdogs'

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The Western Big Three were reported ready today to urge a U.N. Security Council rebuke against Israel for the recent border killings in an adjoining Arab village, and to call for more U.N. "watchdogs" in the troubled area.

Israel Chief Delegate Abba S. Eban also served notice he intends to go over the whole Middle East security question before the council today. Eban accused the Arab states last night of conniving to keep up tension in Palestine.

Will File Resolution

Western sources said Britain, France and the United States would submit a resolution to the council late today, denouncing the armed Israeli raid on the Jordan village of Kibya which cost 53 Arab lives. They said the resolution also would call for more truce supervisors in Palestine.

Dispatches from London said the Big Three were considering also asking for an automatic arms embargo against whichever side the council finds guilty of violating the truce agreements in the future.

One U.N. source said if truce violations were labeled formal aggressions the embargo would follow anyway.

The reported plan to increase the truce supervisors brought praise from the Arabs and sharp criticism from Israel.

Syria's Rafik Asha declared, "Anything that would lead to respect for the truce agreement would be welcome."

Refers to 1949 Pact

Eban said such a program would be "bereft of statesmanship and wisdom." He declared the council was discussing the entire threat to peace in the Middle East and suggested it would do well to appeal to both sides to respect the 1949 armistice agreements.

He took issue with the report of Maj. Gen. Vagn Bennike, chief U.N. truce supervisor, that "well-trained Israeli" soldiers were involved in the Kibya attack. The Israeli delegate contended that the attack was made by civilians.

Eban had no comment on the announcement that U.S. aid to Israel is being resumed as a result of the latter's agreement to halt work on a Jordan River project strenuously opposed by Syria but a time and place for the political conference.

When that job is completed he said, he'll be willing to talk about who will attend.

Reds 'Interested'

Despite the Communist tirade, he said the Communists showed a "good deal of interest" in his new proposal to sidestep the agenda, cut off debate on the neutrals and discuss a time and place for the conference immediately.

The Reds did not reply directly, but Dean noted that while they heaped angry words on him "they are outwardly polite and outwardly interested."

"Whenever the Communists are on a weak spot they hurl invective and abuse on the other side. You've got to expect it and leave your personal feelings out of the conference room," he told newsmen outside the conference hut in Korea's neutral zone.

Dean opened the 2 hour 20 minute session with his appeal.

When he finished North Korean Foreign Ministry representative Ki Sok Bok leveled a stinging attack at him.

Reds Sensitive

Yesterday, the American had called Communist China and North Korea "agents" of Russia and said the Soviets poured weapons into Red Korea during the war.

The Communist delegate called this "an intolerable insult" and said Dean was trying to reduce these talks to a site for your utterances of invectives. This fully indicates that the United States government has no sincerity whatsoever to expedite an early convening of the political conference."

The Red delegate lodged a "strong protest" and insisted that he "will not this facile misstatement."

Dean told correspondents that what he said "is a fact. How can I retract it?"

Dean, striving to make progress in arranging for the peace conference, promised the Reds that if they would first agree on a time and place for the conference he then was "prepared in good faith to exchange views to the fullest extent possible" on composition of the conference.

A source, however, stressed that

Documentary Indictment Is Made Public

Photographs Reveal Communist Butchery Of 6,113 Americans

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army has laid before the world a documented indictment of Communist atrocities in Korea listing 6,113 Americans as probable victims.

It tells how captured GIs were dragged on death marches, roasted alive, lined up and shot. The document, compiled by the Army's war crimes division and released last night, includes charts and graphs and photographs of bound, charred bodies.

A total of 9,815 "probable" atrocity victims of all nationalities were listed.

Back Up Estimate

The statistics weren't new. They closely corresponded to an official estimate of 6,000 released after Col. James M. Hanley of a war crimes investigation unit first brought mass Red atrocities to public notice in November 1951.

But in the Army's new report, what survivors had to say was grim reading. For instance:

"One of te boys had no head; it seemed to have been mashed or beaten and was laying all over the road . . . The other GI had his eyes gouged out, and nothing remained where his eyes were except holes."

The report indicated most of the atrocities occurred in the first year of the war when the North Koreans invaded South Korea. There was a smaller upsurge when the Chinese entered the war and hurled the Allies back from the region of the Yalu River.

The Chinese were charged with 27.3 per cent, the North Koreans with almost all the rest.

Orgy of Murder

The Army said, "It is an interesting fact that the North Korean Peoples Army slaughtered most civilians during September 1950. Of these, 14,602 or 84.6 per cent were slain in the last four days of the month."

That included the "Taejon massacre," where the Reds were said to have killed the occupants of the South Korean city in batches of hundreds at a time — among them 42 Americans.

What was not spelled out in the Army's report was the reason for issuing the detailed account at this time. However, its issuance seemed related to a report to the United Nations three days ago by Dr. Charles Mayo, a U.N. delegate and famous American surgeon.

Dr. Mayo's report gave a scientific account of how the Reds compelled "confessions" from American war prisoners about germ warfare—a propaganda point often employed by the Communists.

Spokesmen said the Army report was prepared and released for publication with the knowledge and cooperation of other govern-

Three Half-Mill Levies Asked in Marion County

Marion County voters Tuesday will decide the fate of three separate half-mill levies requested by county commissioners.

Appearing on the ballot for voters' consideration will be:

1. A levy which would raise $150,000 over a period of three years, for the construction, reconstruction, enlargement, and extension of county buildings, and especially a hospital unit for the Marion County Home. A 60 per cent favorable vote is needed for its passage.

2. A levy which would raise an estimated $50,000 in one year for the construction, acquisition, and installation of an elevator in the Marion County Courthouse. A 55 per cent favorable vote is needed for its passage.

3. An operating levy which is anticipated to raise $150,000 in three years, aimed at covering expected current expenses for operation of the county. A 60 per cent favorable vote is needed for its passage.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS Ray Reidenbaugh, Howard McCurdy and Luther Mitchell took action this summer, to place these three levies on the November ballot.

Referring to the first levy, county commissioners feel they are simply taking care of taxpayers' property when they ask for its approval. They point out that most county buildings are in need of immediate attention and cite the County Home as having the dubious distinction of heading the list.

At the present time bed-fast and sick residents of the home are housed in an inadequate hospital ward on the second floor of the building, Reidenbaugh reported. In case of fire it would be "next to impossible" to save these people, he believes.

That is why, mainly, commissioners consider this levy should be of primary concern to voters.

WITH MONEY derived from the levy commissioners could proceed with plans to build a hospital unit to house about 36 patients at the Home. Plans were drawn up about two years ago for such an addition but because of lack of money commissioners have not been able to proceed with them.

Two years ago the 36-bed unit was estimated to cost the county approximately $25,000 to build. Today, commissioners believe a figure closer to $35,000 would be more realistic.

The County Home is also in bad need of a painting project, Reidenbaugh points out, and adds that the exterior of the building could stand some repairs.

AMONG THE other county buildings which would stand to benefit from the passage of this levy is the county jail. County grand juries have long recommended that the present crowded quarters for women prisoners at the jail be remedied. Commissioners heretofore have pointed out their lack of money with which to carry out this recommendation.

The courthouse also could stand some "fixing up," commissioners maintain. With most offices "bulging at the seams," more space is needed, they say.

One proposal to get the needed additional space is to utilize the extra space, floor to ceiling, on the top floor of the courthouse, creating a fourth floor.

COURTHOUSE WIRING probably will need more attention in the near future, also. A new panel was added recently to take care of greater electrical loads.

The Children's Home, through the help of various civic groups, is in better condition than most county buildings but it could benefit by some painting and general repairs, commissioners say.

And if the money would stretch that far, commissioners have in mind some improvements at the Fairgrounds.

PASSAGE OF the levy appearing on the ballot would provide money for the commissioners to carry out a ruling of Common Pleas Court that they install an elevator in the courthouse building.

Testimony at the Common Pleas Court hearing in May set the cost of acquiring and installing an elevator at approximately $33,000. Commissioners, however, feel that with prevalent increased costs, the $50,000 estimated to be derived from the levy would be closer to the installation cost.

AS FOR the current operating costs levy, commissioners feel it's

Federal Grand Jury Quizzes Officer, Cabbie

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A federal federal grand jury delving into the Greenlease kidnaping case today sought further information from two key witnesses who figured in the arrest of the abductors.

One was Louis Shoulders, St Louis police lieutenant who arrested Carl Austin Hall, 34, and his woman friend, Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady, 41-year-old divorcee.

The other witness was John Hager, St Louis taxicab driver credited with supplying the tip that led to the apprehension.

Both testified at length yesterday but U.S. Dist. Atty. Edward Scheufler asked that they return for further questioning.

Shoulders was the first witness called this morning. Others waiting to testify were Hager, Barney Patton, a St. Joseph, Mo., attorney who had represented Hall in several civil matters, and Sandra O'Day, Hall's woman companion in St Louis.

The jury may indict Hall and Mrs. Heady late today.

Hall confessed kidnaping and slaying Bobby Greenlease, 6-year-old son of a multimillionaire Kansas City automobile dealer. Mrs. Heady admitted abducting the boy Sept. 28 from his private school. His body was found Oct. 7 in the yard of her St. Joseph, Mo., home.

Still missing is $300,000 of the record $600,000 ransom paid by Robert C. Greenlease, the father. Hall has said he believes it was lost during a drinking spree in St Louis.

Yesterday Hager was in the jury room for more than four ours.

He told newsmen: "I've been telling them everything — everything I know about the whole deal. But I didn't say anything I haven't said before."

BOOST GAS RATE

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Fuel Gas Co. today announced a penny-a-thousand-feet increase in natural gas rates in Columbus, Toledo and Springfield, effective Dec. 1.

Absentees' Ballots Due Today at 6:30

Deadline for filing absent voter ballots for civilian and disabled voters is 6:30 p.m. tonight at the Board of Elections office on the ground floor of the Courthouse.

At the close of Wednesday 56 absentee ballots had been filed. Eligible to vote absentee ballots are qualified voters who will be unavoidably absent more than 10 miles from their precincts on election day Tuesday.

Qualified voters who cannot go to the polls Tuesday due to illness or physical disability can also vote absentee ballots.

2 Cotton Growers Confess Keeping Negro in Slavery

PADUCAH, Ky. (AP)—Uncle Tom's Cabin, with an all-male cast, has been revived in federal court here. Two cotton growers have admitted holding a Negro in slavery.

Marvin Gary Elam and his nephew, Arnold Elam, 27, were fined $500 each Tuesday. Accused of holding Willie D. Moore, 25, in involuntary servitude, the Elams were tried in July but the jury failed to agree.

Arnold's father, William Wesley Elam, 49, faces trial tomorrow on a similar count. The family now lives in Tennessee.

Moore said he was promised $4 a day for work on the Elams' Hickman County farm but drew only $3. He fled to Missouri and Memphis but claimed he was sought out and returned and worked for several months afterwards in 1951 for nothing.

It was the first peonage case tried in federal court here since the war between the states.

Schools in City, County To Be Closed Friday

Schools in Marion County and the city's public schools will be closed all day Friday while teachers attend the 82nd annual Central Ohio Teachers Association convention in Columbus.

The convention is slated to open at 8 a.m. Friday at the Coliseum on the state fairgrounds with an address by Dr. Morris Fishbein, former editor of the American Medical Association Journal.

Other speakers at the morning's general session will be George C. Berry, superintendent of Franklin County schools, Walton P. Bliss and Fred C. Stager. Some 30 sectional gatherings and 25 luncheon meetings will follow the general session.

Marion City Superintendent of Schools Lester L. Dickey is vice president of the organizaton. Miss Isabelle Stump of Marion is vice chairman of the English division, Cecil W. Gabler, Harding High principal, chairman of the city superintendents and principals groups; Miss Clara H. Gillan of Marion, discussion panel member for the fourth, fifth and sixth grade meeting; Miss Helen May, secretary of the guidance group; Clyde F. Forry of Prospect, secretary of the physics and chemistry group and Joseph Whisler of Marion, vice chairman of the pupil personnel division.

Negotiations Heated

Communists Blast Dean Accusations as 'Insults'

PANMUNJOM (AP)—U. S. Envoy Arthur Dean today proposed a fresh approach to the problem of arranging a Korean peace conference, but the Communists retorted with their angriest blast in four days of preliminary negotiations.

He told the Reds to "stop the nonsense" of demanding seats for neutrals at a peace conference and get on with the busines of fixing a time and place for the political conference.

When that job is completed he said, he'll be willing to talk about who will attend.

Reds 'Interested'

Despite the Communist tirade, he said the Communists showed a "good deal of interest" in his new proposal to sidestep the agenda, cut off debate on the neutrals and discuss a time and place for the conference immediately.

Appeals Drive Final Report Slated Tonight

On their last lap in the 1953-54 Marion County United Appeals Campaign, the several hundred salesmen and saleswomen will make their final reports at a meeting tonight in the YMCA.

Jackson Taft will preside as toastmaster for the "dutch" dinner report meeting scheduled for 6 o'clock. It will be a brief meeting with the time devoted entirely to reports, and the dining room is to be vacated by 7:30 for a later meeting.

Dinner music will be by Dick Myers and his orchestra and brief talks will be given by J. B. Bray, president of United Appeals and Cutler A. McGrew, general chairman for the current drive.

The hundreds of workers started Oct. 12 to raise $170,462 to finance the work of the Marion Chapter of the American Red Cross, Marion County Unit of the American Cancer Society, Marion Community Foundation and the Marion County Heart Association. At the report meeting Monday night $106,537 had been turned in by the workers.

Play Down Personal Diplomacy

Ike, Dulles Discourage Top-Level Peace Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles seem to be trying, slowly and painstakingly, to rid the free world of the idea that a top-level talk with Soviet Premier Malenkov might bring world peace.

As is obvious from repeated public statements they regard the idea as a vain and dangerous illusion.

Takes Negative View

Eisenhower, at his news conference yesterday, sought to deflate the value of personal diplomacy—a value which has tended to grow in recent months, in part because of the repeated proposals of British Prime Minister Churchill for an East—West talk between chiefs of government.

Eisenhower has been asked questions about the possibility of such a meeting with greater frequency perhaps than questions on any other subject. Dulles, similarly pressed for his views, has also had the problem as a diplomat of trying to dissuade Churchill from pressing the matter to a conclusion.

Dulles' Attitude Adopted

Together, Eisenhower and Dulles have had constantly to reckon with public opinion and the intense hope for a miracle of peace which creates political pressures, especially in England and Western Europe.

In the past the President has been inclined to take the positive line that he would be glad to meet

Frank Costello Gains Freedom After One Year

Gambler Released; Federal Government Eyes Deportation

DETROIT (AP) — Gambler Frank Costello became a free man today after serving out a federal prison term for contempt of the U.S. government.

The 59-year-old New York racketeer operator convicted for defying Senate crime investigators, was freed from the federal correctional institution at Milan.

He left the prison 35 miles west of here at 8:06 a.m. EST upon completing approximately a year of an 18 months sentence.

May Be Limited

But freedom for Costello may be limited. The government is trying to deport him to his native Sicily as an undesirable. It wants to take away his citizenship.

He also faces both criminal and civil actions for alleged evasion of more than $200,000 in taxes, reputedly on income from gambling channels.

With his wife, Loretta, and an unidentified male companion, Costello sped from the prison in a chauffeur-driven car.

Less than an hour later, after dodging pursuing newsmen in a highway chase, Costello was lost in the early morning Detroit area traffic rush.

His immediate whereabouts was unknown. It was assumed, however, that he intended to return east.

To Leave by Plane

Warden David Heritage of Milan said Costello planned to leave Michigan by plane. The warden refused to give any details.

Before finally eluding nearly a dozen newsmen cars, Costello's big black car drew up to a momentary stop on the Willow Run Expressway about 12 miles from the prison.

Apparently this was on the one-time gambling king's orders to the chauffeur.

Costello, nattily dressed in a chalk stripe suit and grey soft hat, looked out the window.

"Will you fellows please quit chasing me?" he said.

Photograpers snapped pictures and the car quickly sped off. It lost itself in a traffic maze in the suburban Allen Park vicinity. This is on the route to Detroit.

Seated beside Costello were Loretta, wearing dark glasses, and the other man. At the prison he was described as a friend of Mrs. Costello.

The warden said he asked Costello to stop at the gate to talk to the newspaper men. Costello ignored this though making the later stop on the expressway.

Tanker Blast Kills 1, Hurts 3

500,000-Gallon Load Of Gasoline Blows Up

CHICAGO (AP) — A lake tanker loaded with 500,000 gallons of gasoline exploded in Lake Michigan today, killing one crewman and injuring two others. Eight others aboard the tanker escaped.

The boat, the Blue Comet, burst into flames at 6:45 a.m. in Calumet Harbor, and fire boats and Coast Guard rescue craft sped to the scene.

Coast Guardsmen removed the dead man, the injured, other members of the crew and the skipper, Capt. Charles Quarry.

The dead crew member was identified by the Coast Guard as Edward Survilla, about 35, of Kingston, Pa.

Identities of the injured men were not available immediately.

Refusal To Let Bishop Use Auditorium Hit

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Directors of the Church Federation of Los Angeles have criticized the philharmonic auditorium for refusing to allow Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam to use the auditorium for a speech.

Directors yesterday termed the action contrary to the spirit of the Bill of Rights. Auditorium officials said the refusal is because Bishop Oxnam is a "controversial figure." He was to have spoken on the Bill of Rights.

Woman Bank Teller Not Scared by 2 Holdup Men

IRVINGTON, N.J. (AP)—Two holdup men pushed a note at a woman bank teller and growled, "Be quiet Fill the bag with bills."

Miss Mary Olney, assistant secretary at the Pulaski Savings & Loan Assn., threw the note back and shook her head.

She turned, walked 15 feet to an office, closed the door and telephoned the police.

The bandits fled.

First Things First

Long - range planning and saving for a rainy day are economical necessities to good business and good government. Individuals, companies and government officials who keep an eye on the future are to be commended.

There's nothing so comforting as a reserve fund, a nest egg to cushion some unexpected setback or finance some desired future expansion.

But what good is the savings of a man if he starves himself to death in the process or if the company can't match its competitors because it is saving for the future rather than building for it? And how long can government go on piling up red figures on one hand while the other builds up a huge savings for a restricted use?

First things come first and if you can't pay-as-you-go because of savings how can you ever get to the point where you desire to use the savings?

Congress will have to face early in its next session the issue of holding the rate of the old age security tax at 1½ per cent for employers and employes. If they bypass the issue, the 2 per cent rate which becomes effective Jan. 1 will remain.

The increased social security payment will amount to $18 a year to all making $3,600 or more. Many in the lower income groups do not pay income tax because of lower pay and numerous deductions, but they do pay social security, regardless of how many dependents they have.

The surplus in the old age insurance fund has reached 18 billion dollars. The annual contributions far exceed the payments and will continue to do so despite extending coverage to an additional 10½ million workers. The point where payments will exceed income is far off—1995 according to government mathematicians and tax experts.

President Eisenhower has recommended postponement of the social security rate hike a year. He is an advocate of the pay - as-you-go plan. A committee is studying this plan for the President and Treasury Secretary Humphrey.

Should this plan prove feasible and be endorsed, trust funds then would be mingled with other treasury funds and annual surpluses would go toward lowering the budget instead of just piling up for years and years.

First things come first; let's freeze the social security rate at 1½ per cent at least until the President's experts have had a chance to completely survey the situation. Let's aim at balancing the budget and lowering the debt. Then tomorrow we'll still be kicking and able to spend whatever surpluses are accrued.

Housecleaning in Washington

A year after the windup of the presidential campaign in 1952, it is announced by the winning side that 1,456 federal employes had been forced off the government payroll as bad security risks up until Sept. 30.

All but five of these employes had been hired by the Truman administration. It is interesting to note that 863 were dismissed and the other 593 resigned when they learned the government possessed information against them.

It also is interesting that the total of 1,456 represents only 25 per cent of the government employes who are being looked at more closely from the standpoint of widening the government's margin of security.

Not all these employes are suspected of sympathy with the Communist conspiracy; in fact, that is only one of many reasons for which an employe may be discharged under the Eisenhower administration's security policy. Some of the other reasons are drug addiction, sexual perversion, alcoholism, nervous disorders, criminal records and infamy.

The "mess in Washington" was never as simple and easily defined as it appeared to be in the eyes of those who thought it consisted of a web of Communist conspirators.

Government had been made the victim of loose administration which provided an ideal environment for Communists and the common varieties of riff-raff which Communists turn to their purposes. These varieties are being urged to get out and stay out.

Meanwhile the Welcome sign has been taken down in the hiring rooms of the federal bureaucracy.

One Holiday at a Time

We're at that time of the year again when merchants don't have to dream up special days and sales to attract customers. For a few months now there will be enough holidays to keep them busy.

They've been capitalizing the last couple of weeks on Halloween and then there'll be Thanksgiving Day, Christmas, good old February with Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays and then Easter and spring.

After Halloween passes this week, all efforts will be turned to Thanksgiving and Christmas. And the music one hears also will shift that way, too.

But someone jumped the gun. Last week the song "Santa Claus Is Coming to Town" was heard.

Here's an earnest request to take the holidays one at a time. Please, let's save Santa for Christmas!

Dewey's Future

By David Lawrence

Governor Still Big Figure in Political Picture

Thomas E. Dewey's reported decision not to run for re-election as governor of New York, in November 1954 is an important development in national politics.

He is known to have made up his mind last year that he wouldn't run again, but he has deferred any announcement and probably will not make it formally till next spring.

The significance of the Dewey retirement may be this. The New York governor will be able to take a position in the Eisenhower cabinet if a vacancy develops. Then, if President Eisenhower decides not to be a candidate for renomination, the opportunity would be open to Dewey to try for the nomination from inside the government. As a cabinet officer, he would be in the limelight and would be getting valuable experience in national affairs.

FOR SEVERAL months now—particularly since President Eisenhower made a cryptic remark at a public dinner attended earlier this year by Gov. Dewey about the latter's further usefulness in the national picture—it has been assumed that Eisenhower will say sometime between now and 1956 that he does not want to run again. Four years in the White House is likely to prove a grueling experience for a man who reluctantly accepted political office in 1952 and who may figure that, at the age of 66 in 1956, he will want to travel around the world and enjoy some leisure.

Eisenhower, on the other hand, is a soldier, and something of the same influence which caused him to listen to the urgings of friends that he allow his name to be entered in the New Hampshire primaries in March 1952 as a public service may be felt again by him when the question of running for a second term comes up.

IN ANY EVENT, the decision is not likely to be made known until close to the time for the 1956 Republican convention.

If the Eisenhower administration is fairly successful and the president is personally very popular, the pressure upon him will be almost irresistible to accept a second nomination and keep the country from being handed back to "corruption and communism"—the political criticism voiced in 1952 against the Democrats.

To begin a second term at the age of 66 will make him two years younger than when President Truman retired, and it wasn't age that influenced the latter to bow out but political considerations.

Dewey has been the center of a factional fight inside the Republican party. When he was a candidate for the presidency, he ran ahead of his party in Congress in both 1944 and 1948.

WHILE BITTERNESS has arisen between the Dewey and Taft factions, this antagonism would be largely absorbed if the New York governor came to the cabinet in Washington and began to work with all factions of the party.

What cabinet post for Dewey? He has been mentioned for secretary of state in the event that his close friend, John Foster Dulles, tired of the job—and the secretary is going at a pretty fast pace these days in hard work and exhausting trips to various parts of the world.

There is always the possibility that a vacancy may occur on the Supreme Court of the United States, to which it might be logical to name Attorney General Brownell, an excellent lawyer and a man of judicial temperament. If the attorney generalship became vacant, Dewey would be a natural choice.

AS DISTRICT ATTORNEY in New York, he made a great record against the criminal elements and is noted for his ability not only as a prosecutor but as an organizer.

It could be, too, that the New York governor might be willing to go on the Supreme Bench himself, as Hughes did in 1908, but if that happened Dewey would take himself out of the running for the presidency.

He is much too young and vigorous a man to retire from national politics.

The news dispatches from New York say Dewey plans next year to resume the practice of law.

That's a plausible way to describe his temporary plans—but Thomas E. Dewey some day will be a political figure again and on the national rather than the state level.

Silver Threads

By TRUMAN TWILL

Like thousands of others, I have been bug-eyed with interest in "Can You Stay Young Longer?" published in U.S. News & World Report. It is an interview with Dr. Nathan W. Shock, a research specialist in the mystery of aging.

This is a mystery because no one knows anything for sure about aging. Until lately, no one has tried very hard to find out. That's why Dr. Shock is making a name for himself. He is trying to find out; he is piecing together all the information that has been allowed to lie around loose.

Two tentative conclusions are thought-provoking to people of all ages.

One is that a human being begins to grow old physically when he ceases to grow, which occurs between 25 and 30. Thereafter, he must make the most of what nature has provided; there isn't going to be any more.

The other is that a human being grows old mentally only when he ceases to have anything to look forward to. Mental growth, in other words, is a matter of interest. The mind can keep adding to itself until it runs out of interest.

When that happens, even though the body be in reasonably good repair, the result is a zombie-like state of existence somewhere between being half alive and half dead. The point is that science may learn sometime how to regulate excessive aging of the body but in the meantime the possessors of the body can put in a few licks to their own retard excessive aging of the mind—to slow up the process of running out of mental steam.

They can work harder at being alive. They can adopt personal resolutions against being turned into zombies by boredom.

They can laugh a little and kick up their mental heels. They can take time to sniff the fragrance of a flower growing by the wayside. They can break through their grandmotherly reserve to shriek "Whoopee" on suitable occasions.

They can struggle to keep themselves from being backwatered out of the main current of events. They can unbend when a gesture of deference to the rising generation is in order.

They can loosen the rigidity of their hardening opinions about matters which need to be reviewed occasionally in the light of new evidence. They can come out from under the rocks of their stony prejudices to bask in the warm sunlight of Christian charity and wiggle their tired mental feet in the freshest of honest differences of opinion.

They can achieve what may be the highest praise bestowed by men in their over-all classification as the smartest of the animals—the subject of the praise is not praiseworthy because he is young, old, middle-aged, rich, poor, short, tall, thin, or fat but because he is endlessly stimulating.

The human body is, after all, only the container of the thing that ultimately matters—the personality which has formed within it.

Science may learn how to keep the package from showing wear and tear but its contents will continue to be matters for personal determination.

Can You Stay Young Longer? The answer seems to be that you can stay young until you get too bushed to care. When that happens, regardless of the condition of your physical machinery, you might as well be dead.

Daily Bible Thought

Thou shalt not be afraid of the terror by night, nor for the arrow that flieth by day.—Ps. 91:5. The things that we fear most seldom happen. God brings good out of evil. We suffer more from fear than we do from ill fortune. God guided his world before we were born. He did all right.

Peeves Are Aired

EAST HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—East Hartford had a "Pet Peeve Week" to give its citizens a chance to get their gripes off their chests. Public Works Director George J. Penney reports that chief complaints were: Loose manhole covers, low tree limbs, too much speeding on some streets, too much automobile horn tooting on others.

Makes a Ghost Laugh

U.S. Isn't Haven for All Refugees

By Jack Jonas

If Lavrenti P. Beria, deposed chief of the Soviet police, actually is roaming the world seeking a place to take root, he had better be careful about where he lands.

Should he touch United States shores, he could be shipped back to Russia under guard.

This interesting possibility arises because the U.S. is not, as is widely believed by the average American, the open-armed Uncle Sam pictured in cartoon and story. This country goes out of its way in extradition treaties to point out its belief that the doctrine of asylum—that a man who commits a crime is safe if he flees to a foreign land — has no basis in international law.

This is another way of saying you make your rules and I'll make mine, because there is no general rule for everybody.

ALL OF WHICH gives wide latitude for rule of thumb, and the thumbprints cover a lot of territory. Actually, while a man like Beria would not be told officially that he would be welcome to stop in the U.S. for a while, it isn't likely he would be sent back to Russia if he wanted to abandon his Communist ways and let high officials here have the answers to some important questions.

This is because the U.S. considers the crime of which Beria is accused political, and political crimes have for a long time been excluded from extradition treaties.

Beria's supposed crime is a complicated one. He has been accused of plotting against the state by plotting against a group of doctors he accused of plotting against the state. This sort of "crime" would be deemed political if it ever came to a showdown.

If Beria, on the way out of Russia, had stopped by the Kremlin long enough to shoot and kill Premier Malenkov, it is likely that the United States would ship Beria back to Russia to stand trial for murder.

NATIONS GENERALLY agree that killing the head of a state is not a political crime, but murder most foul, and assassins who go around, knocking off kings, presidents, premiers and dictators ought to be brought to account.

Great Britain has long recognized asylum and considers herself duty bound not to snip a refugee back home. Each case is investigated carefully before action is taken.

This happened in the case of Gerhard Eisler, the Communist who fled America aboard the Polish liner Batory.

The American attitude is more informal. U.S. Legations are warned not to put out the welcome mat for political refugees, but not to slam the door in their faces either.

The christian practice of sanctuary is the basis for international law's treatment of asylum. Sanctuary goes back even before the christian era — the Greeks set aside temples to Zeus as sanctuary spots — but the Catholic Church was the first to go into it in detail, drawing up sets of rules and rights.

THESE LAWS, like many laws, finally had so much interpretation that it became the practice of each church to draw up its own rules and set up its own playing field. This included how far the right of sanctuary extended beyond the church walls.

Nations today are not so specific and there is no general code of asylum to which all countries subscribe.

The practice of one state agreeing with another by treaty on what fugitives should be returned is only a little more than 300 years old. The first treaties, oddly, dealt only with political fugitives.

Today most treaties exclude political fugitives. The variance of terms among the many existing treaties makes it almost impossible to draw up a general rule.

The lack of general rules was well illustrated in the case of Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany when the Allies tried to get him back from Holland after World War I for trial "for a supreme offense against international morality and the sanctity of treaties."

-:-

THE DUTCH, pointing to "the age-long tradition which has made this country always a ground for refuge for the vanquished in international conflicts," refused.

Even where extradition treaties exist, the punishment must fit the crime, in the eyes of the country deciding whether a fugitive should be returned.

If the punishment is more severe in the country where the crime was committed, the prisoner usually isn't returned. Thus, because Italy has no death penalty for murder, she will not extradite to the United States persons accused of murder there, even though she has an extradition treaty with the United States.

Reversing the situation, the U.S. would not be likely to return a prisoner to the small country whose ruler recently was driven out because he had reinstituted a long-abandoned practice of cutting off fingers as punishment for certain minor crimes.

Beria, the policeman, will have to become a pretty astute student of the niceties of international law if he hopes to find a place for permanent roots. Provided, of course, that he's looking.

Jones Boy No More

By JOHN SHERMAN WALKER

OMAHA

Warrant Officer J. Franklin Chrysler, of Offutt Air Force Base, Omaha, Neb., is one man who has no desire to "keep up with the Joneses."

The "Jones" have their troubles, the same as other people — if not more so — claims Chrysler. He should know. Up until very recently Chrysler spent his life as a Jones — J. Franklin Jones, to be exact. The well known name palled on him to such an extent that he pleaded for legal change of surname.

A sympathetic district judge, James Patton, in granting Jones' plea for a change of name, considered the reported trials and tribulations which J. Franklin Jones said he had undergone all his life because he had been born with the too-popular title.

Chrysler explained: "I have always had a dislike for the name. When I attended the University of North Carolina there were 200 students named Jones — and a dozen of them had the first name of Frank."

The airman went on to say that his entire life has been plagued with phone calls from strangers looking for somebody named Jones. And for too many years he has been getting other people's mail, and vice versa.

"In the service," said the flier, "it seems like everybody is named Jones."

When well - meaning friends dubbed him "Jonesey," the airman said his prejudices got so deep - seated he began despising the people who pinned the inevitable tag on him.

At every introduction he bled inwardly whenever a wag wisecracked, "Ahhh — one of the Jones boys," eh?"

In choosing a new name, the air officer made a close check of the service register, which showed no man with the last name of Chrysler. It seemed the name for him.

Marion County History Brevities

The Hocking Valley Railroad, now the Chesapeake & Ohio, was completed on Jan. 10, 1877, from Columbus to Toledo. It was first known as the Columbus & Toledo Railroad. Among the Marion men who encouraged the building of the road by liberal subscriptions were Robert Kerr, Amos H. Kling, J. J. Hane, J. Ballentine, J. S. Reed and T. P. Wallace.

Joy for Governor

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — "Joy," the wire haired terrier at the executive residence, presented four bundles of joy to Gov. John Lodge's family—two males and two females. The Lodges named the males "Ike" and the females "Mamie" "But," complained Mrs. Lodge, "it didn't seem to do much good. If you call either 'Mamie' or 'Ike'—they all come running."

A Cheer for Big Stone Gap

GI's who switched to the Commie side as POWs are beginning to come back to our side. Corp. Eddie Dickenson, of Big Stone Gap, Va., was first.

There will be plenty of others, and as President Eisenhower says, they should be greeted with understanding. We prefer the Eddie Dickensons who went through hell to all those Americans who went over to the Kremlin side freely amid all the comforts of home, Washington cocktail parties, Hollywood luxuries and increasingly fat checks.

Give us the Big Stone Gap lads over the well-educated, smartly-tailored, eager beavers of the Bagdad belts who knew what they were doing at all times and didn't need prison camp brutalities or starvation diets to make them traitors.

Big Stone Gap is out in the Appalachia, Elverton Station, Speers Ferry, Chilhowie, Sword Creek, Grundy, Jonesville and Moccasin Gap country. About 4,000 population. No great opportunities, no colleges, no movie studios, no big dough. No fat chances, no easy fame, no soft jobs, no formats for making heavy sugar in cushy jobs under the American system, penetrating vital federal agencies and double-crossing Uncle Sam.

For a fellow to stab his country in the back out there he must first be "beat up" on the firing lines, driven a little mad by frostbitten dogs, captured by the enemy, tossed into a prison camp and tortured for months.

It isn't easy for the Big Stone Gap and Grundy lads to betray their country while attending cocktail parties, meeting the "right contacts" at the right balls, living the life of Reilly and maybe holding down a job at $25,000 a year as head of a foundation.

If you want them to stab their country in the back it is apt to take suffering, anguish, nonstop brutality and some brainwashing.

A word to Corp. Dickenson: Nobody knows what you went through. Welcome back! Things may go badly with you back home at first.

There are plenty of folks who will shed tears for a pinko who is asked a few fair questions about his loyalty, there are many who get terribly sad over a highly placed, smarty pants who is identified as a traitor but hides behind the Fifth Amendment.

There are too many who won't be so lenient toward a GI whose mind was warped the hard way: who went Red in a dizzy spell after months of battering in combat.

You should worry, Eddie. Your mind is clear again, you see straight. And you're not saying, "I refuse to answer the question whether I am now or ever have been a Communist on the grounds it might incriminate and degrade me."

You don't even have to have a lawyer to help in the clam-up.

President Truman is among the top candidates for the Nobel Peace Prize. . . . Seems the judges didn't get the blow-by-blow reports or read his election speeches or hear about those $100-a-plate dinner talks.

Texans gave a de luxe Cadillac to Senator Joe McCarthy. It ANSWERS the trottle fast, has power-quizzing and takes the "heels" in high speed. . . . The senator is now a Texas colonel and entitled to ask questions from the back of a cowpony.

Against Seat in U.N.

Churchmen Reject Stand Favorable to Red Chinese

CLEVELAND (AP)—Church leaders have turned down a proposal that they take action favoring the admission of Red China to the United Nations.

The proposal was advanced at an interdenominational church conference here by the Rev. James R. Mutchmor, of Toronto, representing the United Church of Canada.

Declaring that the Canadian church's general council advocated U N. membership for the Chinese regime, he declared:

"To leave the four million Chinese out of the picture is unwise and unrealistic. We in the West would greatly improve our badly deteriorated position in the Far East by favoring China's recognition."

Church delegates, representing 30 Protestant and orthodox denominations, voted overwhelmingly against the move.

Dr John Smith, New York Presbyterian, said letting Red China in the U N. would be interpreted in the Far East as "succumbing to military power."

The action came as 450 clergymen and laymen labored into the late hours last night to chart a Christian approach to major foreign policy problems.

Four separate study groups, each appraising certain international issues, today put their findings before the entire meeting—"The National Conference on the Churches and World Order."

Among the questions being considered:

Is the United Nations serving Christian aims? How far should this country go in aiding needy lands? What should be our attitude in dealing with Russia? How fair are our tariff laws? What are the right means of defense?

Israeli-Arab clashes also were discussed, with Dr. Lynn J. Radcliffe, Cincinnati Methodist, urging prompt U. N. action to effect a permanent peace—not just a truce.

"Bad blood, inimical to everything for which the United Nations stands has been building up," he said.

Dr. Garland E. Hopkins, Herndon, Va., Methodist, said "pressure groups" were keeping American newspapers from publishing the full facts about the Palestine situation. Names of the groups were not mentioned.

"The problem," he said, "must be taken out of the field of partisan politics and out of the range of pressures that have been influencing U.S. policy," he said.

Several delegates denounced the "Bricker amendment"—a congressional proposal by Sen. John Bricker (R-Ohio) to modify the President's treaty-making powers.

"The passage of this amendment," declared Mrs. Werner J Blanchard, Dayton, Ohio, Presbyterian, "would make the United Nations difficult, if not impossible."

Dr. Walter W. Van Kirk, head of the National Council of Churches Department of International Justice, said the Bricker amendment would make unlawful 12 of the last 23 treaties made by the United States.

The question of how the nation best can defend itself and still be guided by the Gospel evoked from Quaker delegates sharp denunciations of the armaments buildup.

"The only security for the United States and the world is to get rid of our armament," declared the Rev. Ray Newton, Philadelphia Quaker.

Airline Applies For New Route

Lima Would Be Stop On Proposed Flight

Application for a new route connecting Charleston, West Virginia and Detroit, Michigan has been made by Lake Central Airlines to the Civil Aeronautics Board, it was announced today by Dr. R B. Stewart, president of Lake Central.

This extension of current scheduled routings would link Charleston with Detroit via Columbus and Lima, O. No direct service from Charleston to Columbus now exists, although a community of interest between these cities has indicated a need for this service for some time.

Three other applications for route expansion have been filed with the Civil Aeronautics Board by Lake Central, including American Airlines' Route 7, serving Chicago to Detroit via Gary, South Bend, Kalamazoo, Battle Creek and Jackson, Michigan. At the present time, there has been no date set by the CAB for pre-hearing conferences on the request.

Routing from Chicago to Indianapolis via Gary, Danville, Ill., Terre Haute and Bloomington was requested several months ago. A final decision in this case is not expected for approximately six months.

The City of Lima has requested that the Civil Aeronautics Board certificate Lake Central to serve that city as soon as possible. If this request is granted, Lima will be served on the Kokomo, Indiana, Marion, Ohio segment of Lake Central's current route.

Dr. Stewart, in making this announcement, stated that economic research into other potential route extensions is continually being made by Lake Central Airlines.

SUIT ANTI-DATED

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—To clear its docket, the Ohio Supreme Court has dismissed a suit by former Republican Lieut Gov. Paul Herbert of Columbus to force Gov Frank J. Guests included Miss Rider, Miss Nettie Lou Dickason, Miss Maxine Hawk, Mrs. Colle, Mrs. James Blank, Mrs. O P. Grover, Mrs. Jack Grover, Mrs. Howard Davis, Mrs. Victor Kreis and Miss Rosemary Taylor.

CLEARS CONFLICT

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)--Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill has ruled a voter may not maintain a voting residence in a precinct within a county other than the one in which he lives. He made the ruling yesterday in an attempt to clear up the meaning of the law permitting the use of "temporary" residence up to three years in a different county or in an other state.

APPEAL OVERRULED

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Supreme Court ruled Wednesday Alliance must pay the Cope Furniture Co $8 500. The court overruled the city's appeal from Stark County court decisions granting the award for damage to furniture flooded because of city negligence The store said damage resulted from a cut in the former Stark Electric Railway Co embankment made by the city in extending Parkway Blvd three years ago. Heavy rain March 6, 1951 flowed through the cut into the store basement.

Candy Apples Make Halloween Treats

To Delight the Small Fry Give Them Delicious Apples-on-a-Stick

By CECEILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

High point of our childhood was our neighborhood Trick or Treat trek on Halloween. We borrowed Big Sister's high heels, put on our Mother's blouse and skirt, adjusted our mask, and sallied forth with the other children on the block to ring bells on our street. It was a friendly street—no tricks, all treats.

And such treats. Thick squares of hauntingly sweet penuche. (Remember the flavor of the dark brown-sugar melting and creamy on the tongue?) Homemade peanut brittle — and lots of peanuts roasted in their shells. Orange and black jelly beans. Crisp ginger cookies cut in the shape of witches, cats and pumpkins. And most amazing of all — candy apples. Some with a hard red sugar syrup glaze, some with a rich caramel coating.

By the time we had visited all the houses we had a sample of all of these treats in our brown paper bags. Such excitement!

Ringing bells has gone out of style in many communities. But thank heavens candy apples are still with us for Halloween parties. Right here is a recipe for the caramel kind. We stoutly believe that it is all children's right to have the wondrous delight of candy apples on 'all Hallow's Eve.

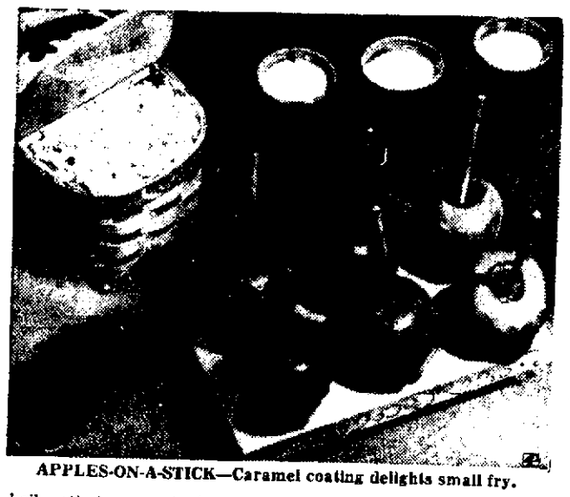
Grownups can eat these candy apples, too, because although the caramel is rich and butterscotchy, it's still creamy and pliable — not the brittle kind that takes tooth fillings with it.

You'll find Jonathan apples are perfect for this sweet. Keep them ready to use them so they'll be juicy and crisp.

CARAMEL APPLES ON-A-STICK

Ingredients: 6 medium-size Jonathan apples, 1 cup sugar, ½ cup white corn syrup, one 15-ounce can sweetened condensed milk, ⅛ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup butter or margarine, 1 teaspoon vanilla, finely chopped filberts (if desired.)

Method: Remove any stems from apples; wash and thoroughly dry. Insert wooden skewer in stem end of each apple. (You can buy wooden skewer at a butcher's.) Mix sugar, corn syrup, condensed milk and salt in heavy saucepan. Stir over low heat until sugar is completely dissolved. Cook slowly, but allow mixture to boil, stirring gently but constantly, until candy thermometer registers 230F., or a small amount of the caramel dropped in cold water forms a soft ball. Remove from heat; cool slightly. Stir in butter, then vanilla. Quickly dip apples in caramel and twirl until well coated. Place apples, stick side up, on aluminum cookie sheet for caramel to become firm. If you want a "belt" of chopped filberts around the caramel apples, spread a thin strip of the finely chopped nuts on a sheet of waxed paper. As soon as the apple is dipped, hold it with the stick parallel to the paper and roll it over the nuts. Or, you may dip the blossom ends of the apples in the chopped filberts, and then place them on the cookie sheet to harden; this gives the apples a good non-sticky resting place.



APPLES-ON-A-STICK—Caramel coating delights small fry.

Woman Claims Husband Scared to Death, Sues

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Suit for $400,000 has been filed against Columbia Pictures, Inc., by Mrs. Carolyn Ward Satterfield for herself and three children, claiming her husband was frightened to death when planes dived within 50 feet of their home.

Mrs. Satterfield alleged in her complaint yesterday that the planes dived low over their ranch home near Newall, Calif., last March 3 while filming "Mission Over Korea." She stated that her children became hysterical and her husband Robert died from shock.

Strike Oil - - - in Can

WARSAW, N. Y. (AP) — Drillers seeking water thought they'd found more than they bargained for when they discovered traces of oil 100 feet below the home of Gilbert Harbour. Then further exploration showed that the oil came from a leaking oil can on their machinery.

Bacall Declines To Put Footprints in Cement

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Lauren Bacall has declined to record her footprints in wet cement in the Grauman Chinese Theater forecourt.

"To me, the Grauman's Chinese has always meant the peak," she said. "The people who have their footprints there should be irreplaceable and never to be forgotten. I'm neither."

Husband Humphrey Bogart cemented the argument with:

"It's her sincere belief and I think she's right. There are too blasted many meaningless awards and medals in this town."

He added somewhat meekly that he recorded his footprints a few years ago.

GI Needs Refund

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—A New Mexico serviceman, apparently in need of the $23 refund he claims, filed his 1953 income tax return yesterday. Internal revenue officials say he won't be able to get the refund until after the first of the year, however.

Korea Strategy Flops

Communists Losing Out In Psychological Combat

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Communists in Korea, looking worse every day by their own doing—but with some assists from the United States—are taking a beating in the psychological war.

Humiliated by their own countrymen who refused to return home after being captured, the Communists by a nakedly cruel proposal gave a good insight into why so many Red prisoners rejected repatriation.

This was in their demand that the prisoners be forced — even though it might require shooting hundreds of them as a terror tactic—to listen to Communists explain why they should return.

And this week the United States added to this picture of Communist savagery with two reports on the mental and physical torture and murder used by the Communists on the United Nations soldiers they captured.

Under the Korea armistice agreement covering prisoners who refused to go home, 5,000 Indian troops were brought into Korea to guard these prisoners on both sides This was to be the program.

The Communists would be permitted to talk face to face with the 16,500 Chinese and 8,000 North Koreans who had been captured by the U N and refused repatriation. The U N. would be allowed to do the same with the 335 South Koreans, 23 Americans and 1 Britton who had been captured by the Communists and chose to remain with them

These repatriation talks were under the supervision of a special international group set up as the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commision (NNRC), whose members are

Sweden and Switzerland, both truly neutral in the war; Poland and Czechoslovakia, only theoretically neutral since both are Communist, and India, whose only contribution to the war was a medical unit

The Communists talked to 921 Chinese and persuaded only 20, or 2 per cent, to return. Many of the others roundly cursed the Red "explainers" and suggested they too get away from communism while the getting was good.

The North Koreans rioted when the Indian troops sought to bring them before the "explainers"

The Communists, professed lovers of mankind, demanded that the North Koreans be brought before them. The Indian custodians, who might have had to kill hundreds refused The Swiss and Swedish members of NNRC also were opposed.

The U N, in what seems like a shrewd maneuver, hadn't tried to talk to a single U.N. prisoner captured by the Communists. The U.N. may have decided to hold back while the world concentrated its attention on the Communists' humiliation.

This week the world got a scientific explanation of Communist barbarism. Dr. Charles Mayo, famous surgeon and American delegate to the U N. in New York, went before the U.N. with an analysis of Communist technique —mental torture, including threats of death—in making U.N. prisoners "confess" war crimes.

Yesterday the Army's war crimes division followed up with a report that an estimated 29,815 persons, including 6,113 American prisoners, had been tortured and slaughtered by the Communists during the war—not to extract confessions, but through savagery.

Examples of these Communist war crimes included eyes gouged out; feet chopped off; men used for bayonet practice; prisoners, sitting in a ditch, killed with burp guns by their guards—what the Army called "all the sickening details of horror."

Retail Food Prices In '54 Predicted Close to 1953 Level

WASHINGTON (AP)—Retail food prices in 1954 will average close to this year's level, the Agriculture Department predicted today.

And, the department said, farmers probably will receive about the same share of the consumer's food dollar—a share estimated at 45 cents for 1953.

Food supplies about as large as in 1953 are in prospect for 1954, the department said

"With no marked change in prospect for consumer income, the demand for food is likely to continue strong," the department said. It made separate forecasts on the food situation and marketing costs

"The relative stickiness (slowness to fluctuate) of food processing and marketing costs will also tend to maintain retail food prices," it added

The estimate that the farmer got 45 cents of the consumer's food dollars in 1953—2 cents less than in 1952—is the lowest since 1941 But it is higher than in most pre-World War II years.

Retail prices of food products in the January-August period this year averaged 2 per cent below the corresponding period of 1952, but charges for marketing these foods averaged slightly higher, the department said

Truck Driver Hurt in Mishap

Vehicle Skids, Runs Into Fence on Farm

One person was slightly injured in three accidents reported this morning by the Marion office of the state highway patrol, police and the sheriff's office.

Lloyd Keller, 22, of near Ada received lacerations of the nose and left hand in a one-vehicle accident investigated by the state highway patrol. The accident occurred at the junction of County Roads 66 and 83, northwest of Marion, at 4:10 p.m. yesterday.

The accident occurred as Keller was approaching the intersection from the east in a half-ton truck. After crossing a slight rise, he saw another car approaching the intersection from his right.

Keller applied his brakes to stop and slid on the gravel, crossing the junction and hitting a fence post. The truck was badly damaged on the left side.

Accident in Prospect

One accident in Prospect was reported Wednesday to the Marion County sheriff's office. Cars driven by Harland Geiger Jr., of 536 Olney Ave., and Watt Kyle of Prospect collided on Park Ave in Prospect shortly before noon Wednesday. Geiger reported damage to the left front fender, door and right front tire of his automobile.

One Accident in City

One city traffc accident was reported by police today.

A car driven by Norma Lee Ulery, 16, of 652 Lee St. struck a car owned by Jack Miller of 386 Mitburn Ave. which was parked at 685 Silver St. The accident occurred at 8 07 a.m. Wednesday.

There was damage to the right front of the Ulery car and to the left side of the Miller car.

False 'Fire Instructor' Seeks To Enter Home

Marion residents were warned by police today of a man representing himself as a fire instructor and attempting to enter Marion homes.

The man attempted to gain entrance to a home in south Marion Wednesday saying he was an instructor on what to do in case of fire but was not admitted by the residents. Instead, they called the police. A check with the fire department found they had no man on such a job.

Police today warned persons not to admit the man into their home He is described as tall and slender, wearing more or less soiled clothing, and a blue shirt.

Inhalator Squad Helps Woman Suffering Shock

Firemen operated the inhalator for 50 minutes last night on Mrs. C S. Lowhorn, 70, of 483 W. Columbia St.

Afterwards she was taken to Marion City Hospital where her condition was reported "poor" this morning.

According to Fire Chief Owen A. Sifritt, Mrs. Lowhorn was suffering from shock. She had just returned from the hospital where she had been treated for injuries received in an automobile accident a week ago.

The inhalator call was answered at 8 05 p.m.

Firemen from the Central Station also answered a call at 9:30 a.m. today at the home of L. P. Seiter on N. State St. A chimney there was burned out when a wooden frame on it caught fire. Damage was estimated between $15 and $20.

Power Shovel Lists Earnings Of $972,651

A net profit of $972,651 for the nine-months period ending Sept. 30, 1953, was listed by the Marion Power Shovel Co. in a report released today to its stockholders.

This figure compares to $848,893 reported for the same period in 1952. After making provision for current year's dividends to date on the preferred stock, net profits amounted to $3.55 per common share, as compared to the $3.07 declared per common share for the same period in 1952.

Sales for the first nine months of this year were listed at $21,293,677, while last year for the corresponding period sales amounted to $22,442,427.

The stockholders report, sent out by John P. Courtright, president and general manager, was prepared by Alex Gibson, vice president and treasurer.

Crippled Children Unit Seats Officers

Officers, headed by Richard Brandt as president, were installed at a meeting of the Marion County Society for Crippled Children Wednesday night at the YMCA.

Taking office with him were Miss Marie Johnson, vice president, Mrs. Lois Jean Barnhouse, secretary and Floyd Wilhelm, treasurer. Mrs. C. L. Ross, a past president of the society, conducted the installation.

Highlighting the meeting was the presentation of a film, "They Will Never Walk Alone," by Julian Gardner of Napoleon, secretary of the northwest area of the Ohio Society for Crippled Children.

The film, made in color, is an authentic story of life in a home for crippled children. Recently completed, the showing here was the second time the film had been presented in a public meeting.

Conference

Dean's offer to exchange views is "no abandonment" of the United Nations position that only the belligerents, and Russia, if the Reds want her, should attend the conference.

"It still stands," said the source, that Dean "does not have any authority on his own" to change the U.N. stand on composition of the conference.

Repeats Demands

The Communist delegate repeated demands that neutral nations attend the peace conference and declared, "This is the firm and unalterable stand of our side."

South Korea's foreign minister, meanwhile, told a reporter he is optimistic over the chances for agreement in the preliminary talks and said his government will make a sincere effort to help the peace conference reach an agreement.

Foreign Minister Pyun Yung Tai said South Korea still reserves the right to take independent action after Jan. 28—180 days after the Korean armistice was signed—unless a treaty is completed.

But his tone was conciliatory, in sharp contrast to violent threats he had made earlier.

Eisenhower

anybody halfway around the world if he thought that would do any good for peace. Dulles tended to press a somewhat more negative argument, saying the United States was always ready for negotiation but was not interested in talks without evidence of Communist good will.

Eisenhower, asked again yesterday for his views about the possibility of Big Four meeting at the highest level, replied that if anything turned up to convince him that the Soviets would go into a meeting in good faith, then he would overcome any handicap or solve any problem to meet with them.

But then he went on to say bluntly it would be perfectly hopeless to have such a meeting until he knows there is an honest purpose behind Russian interest in it. Indicating he does not think such purpose exists today, he reminded reporters there had been many examples of meetings in the past being used primarily for propaganda.

Safety Cards Distributed

Safety posters were distributed through Marion Wednesday by City Policeman Floyd Wilson.

The distribution is a project of the Marion Lions Club in cooperation with city police. A total of 100 posters were placed in industrial plants, railroad stations and public places.

MARION MAN ELECTED

R. H. Henderson of the General Telephone Co. of Ohio, which has headquarters here, was elected a director at the annual meeting of the Council of Telephone Accountants in Columbus Wednesday. R. H. Boehm of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. of Cleveland was elected chairman of the council. Henderson, who resides at 606 E. Center St., is a controller at the General Telephone Co. here.

Panel Selected For Civil Action

7 Women and 5 Men To Hear $2,720 Suit

A jury of seven women and five men was seated this morning in Common Pleas Court to hear a civil suit in which a judgment of $2,720 is being asked.

Plaintiff in the suit, filed Jan. 20, is Wooster B. Denman of 241 Chase St. Named defendant is Frank C. Gegenheimer of 295 Franklin St. as executor of the estate of William C. Selanders of 223 Pearl St.

The plaintiff's petition says Selanders died on June 20, 1952 leaving a will which was admitted to probate on July 21, 1952. Denman seeks recovery of $2,720 which he claims is due him from the estate for "personal services, care and attention" given Selanders prior to his death.

Gegenheimer, the petitioner claims, refused and rejected his claim to this amount.

Seated as jurors are Kathryn Taukert, Clara M. Bowen, Dorothy M. Lang, Ted B. Kull, L. B. Geer, Avonelle Merrell, Iris Young, Alice P. Hines, Russell Young, Darold Jerew, Wilbur C. Click, and Hilda R. Rinehart. Selected as alternate was William J. Bender.

Attorney for the plaintiff is Riley Hall, and attorney for the defendant is John Clark.

Levies

a matter of simple arithmetic.

Prices have gone up on most things, they point out, and the cost of government is no exception. This includes supplies and welfare services.

Under welfare services, the largest single increase has been noted for tuberculosis care and treatment. Within the last several years this expense has increased to the point where this year it is expected to reach the $50,000 mark.

In years to come, the cost for this care will be lower due to its being caught in the early stages at the present time, but for now it does put a heavy burden on the county budget, commissioners say.

FAILURE OF voters to approve this operating levy will mean that commissioners will be forced to cut down county department's budget requests, probably the salary portion.

Passage of all three levies would mean the addition of 1.5 mills this next year on the rate of taxation for the county. If residents of Marion also approve a three-quarter mill levy for current operating expenses for Marion's sewage treatment plant, they will be faced with a total addition of 2.25 mills.

Rate of taxation for city residents for 1952 was 27.60 mills.

Mrs. Harvey Schrote Heads County Chorus

Mrs. Harvey Schrote of the Waldo community was elected president recently of the Marion County Homemakers Chorus which meets in the YMCA in Marion. Mrs. Paul Lill of Grand Prairie was elected secretary, and Mrs. Ernest Klingel of near Waldo, treasurer. Mrs. Mabel Pangborn of Martel was in charge of the election. Director of the group is Mrs. LeRoy Shroats of near Green Camp, and pianist is Mrs. Floyd Uncapher of Green Camp.

Schedule of performances by the chorus next month includes an engagement Nov. 1 to appear at the Liberty Methodist Church in Kirkpatrick and Nov. 18 at a county gathering at the "Y" for the agricultural extension home demonstration's agent's Homemade Christmas session. Rehearsals of the chorus are every two weeks, and the next practice will be Monday at 1:30 p.m.

Water Pressure Back To Normal in Marion

Water pressure returned to normal throughout the city last night about 6:15 at the end of a 40-hour repair period.

Repairs to a defective water main were completed at 3:30 p.m. yesterday and repairs to a broken valve, which went out of order Tuesday, were finished at 5:45. For about a five-minute period after the water was turned on, pressure in the downtown area was reduced and finally at 6:15, normal pressure was resumed.

L. Otis Porter, manager of the Marion Water Co., said many employes worked round-the-clock to complete the repairs. He said also that Marion citizens were particularly considerate during the water pressure trouble and that the company heard no complaints.

ASSAULT CHARGE DISMISSED

An assault and battery charge against Martin F. Orr, 19, of near Marion was dismissed in Municipal Court this morning because of lack of prosecution. Orr was arrested on Court St. Friday by city police on a warrant charging assault and battery sworn out by John C. Way, 20, of 876 E. Center St. The charge was dismissed because the complaintant's witnesses failed to appear to testify.

Atrocities

ment agencies, including the State Department.

Army's Reason Hinted

There were clues to the Army's reason in a statement by Secretary Robert T. Stevens which accompanied the text.

He said releasing details of such "cold-blooded . . . torture and murder . . . is one of the best answers that can be given to anyone who questions the need for strong military defenses."

And he said also:

"It exposes the enemy for what he is. All of the sickening detail of horrow and calculated brutality spells out the fact that we cannot relax our defense efforts while such threats to free peoples exist."

A "fact sheet" based on the report is being furnished all commanders for use in troop discussion sessions.

The Army has had the affidavits, investigation findings and pictures in its possession since the early days of the Korean War. But policy makers had debated whether the ghastly details — especially the pictures — would be released because of the impact on relatives of men reported dead or missing.

Seek To Avoid Grief

Officials know that pictures of dead and wounded men often are mistakenly identified by grief-stricken relatives. No names were used, of course.

Some of the reports on cases read like these:

A massacre: "The captives were then escorted to a nearby orchard where their boots and dogtags were removed and all their personal property confiscated. The prisoners' hands were tied behind them with either wire or their own bootlaces. For two days they were kept hidden in ravines during the day and forced to march at night. Suddenly on the afternoon of 17 August 1950, without warning, their North Korean guards opened fire upon these bound victims and then left the scene. Thirty-four American soldiers were slaughtered in this massacre."

Two-Week Death March

The Seoul-Pyongyang death march: "On 26 September 1950, Korea added its counterpart to the infamous Bataan death march involving approximately 376 American prisoners of war. Only 296 survivors completed this two-week horror hike."

The bamboo spear case: "During December 1950 a South Korean patrol discovered the bodies of five American airmen near Muju. It was apparent from the condition of the remains that the victims had been subjected to feindish torture, the flesh being perforated with multiple punctures, apparently inflicted by sharpened sticks or bamboo spears."

The prospect that any war criminals would be brought to trial is remote. Out of the accumulation of evidence, rumors, accusations and confessions by captured enemy soldiers the Army has prepared material for trial in 43 cases.

Criminals Repatriated

But accused, as well as some witnesses, have gone from American hands. Some of them were released in the exchange of war prisoners last summer. Others disappeared in the mass breakouts from war prisoner camps last June.

Sen. Potter (R-Mich), in San Francisco now, is reported quietly picking up eyewitness accounts of Communists' atrocities for use in televised public hearings to start in early December.

2 Toledo Duck Hunters Missing in Maumee Bay

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Coast Guard rescue teams were searching today for two duck hunters missing since Wednesday afternoon in Maumee Bay.

John McCue, 23, and Norman Perry, 24, both of Toledo, were the hunters.

Children of Waldo Churches To Help Halloween Drive

On Friday the children of the Waldo community, dressed in Halloween costumes, will join hands in the country-wide effort to help the less-fortunate children of the world by soliciting money for the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund.

The Waldo project is being sponsored by the community's churches which feel the children will be "helping to fight disease and hunger and provide clothing for the world's children, and at the same time our children at home will be doing something constructive."

The house-to-house campaign starts at 6:30 p.m. with the town children meeting at 6 p.m. at the Waldo Methodist Church where they will be assigned to the various sections of the village.

Children living in the country will be picked up by women from the churches. All the children are to report to the Methodist Church at 7:30 p.m. for a Halloween party featuring games and refreshments.

Residents are asked to have their contributions ready for the children.

Two Arrested In Police Raid

Pleas of Not Guilty Entered to Charges

Pleas of not guilty were entered in Municipal Court today by a Marion man and women charged with keeping a house of ill-fame.

Sue DeRose, 35, and Frank DeRose, 53, both of 848 Kenton Ave., entered the pleas this morning. Bond on each was set at $600 for hearing at 3 p.m. this afternoon.

City police, in a raid at the Kenton Ave. address at 9 37 p.m., Wednesday, arrested the pair and also two women suspected of being employed there. They are being held for investigation. One is 28 and the other 22.

Police Chief Tom Coon said today it marked the fourth time in a two-year period that Sue and Frank DeRose have been arrested on the same charge.

Patrol Post Inspected

Things at the Marion station of the state highway patrol are in "very good shape" according to patrol officers who gave the post its semi-annual inspection Wednesday morning.

The inspection was conducted by the District 2 staff headed by Lt. W. B. Spence and Sgt. H. T. Cowell of Bucyrus. It included all motor vehicles, personal equipment and the barrack.

The post is inspected twice yearly, once in April and once in October.

Federal Authorities Pick Up Accused Man

George Vernon Morrison of 743 Bennett St., arrested Saturday by city police for investigation and later charged with theft of mails, has been removed to Federal Court at Toledo.

Morrison was taken to Toledo by a U. S. Marshal. He was arrested by city police after he had attempted to pass an old-age pension check at Wilson's Grocery on N. Main St.

He later admitted stealing the check out of a mailbox at 764 Bennet St., police said. He also admitted having stolen another check previously, which he had cashed, forging the endorsement.

Eisenhowers Entertain Greek King and Queen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The King and Queen of Greece faced a busy scheduled today after being toasted by President Eisenhower at a White House dinner last night as leaders of a nation which "ranks high as a champion on the side of human dignity and freedom."

The royal visitors, King Paul and Queen Frederika, are in this country for a 37-day stay during which they will travel from coast to coast and back.

Ohio School Bond Issue Valuations Show Big Gains

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio State University Bureau of Educational Research says the value of school bond issues up for vote in Ohio next Tuesday is more than double the value of similar issues voted on in 1952.

This year's school bond issues total $141,900,864. Last year the total was $69,542,352.

Of the state's 135 city school districts, 45 will consider bond issue proposals totaling $83,673,000. Of 74 exempted village school districts 18 will submit bond issues totaling $7,166,50. In 157 local districts, $51,061,364 in bond issues will come to vote.

In addition special school levies are up for vote in many districts. Including levies already acted on this year, a total of 618 districts have put school levies up for vote.

There were similar votes in 639 districts last year.

The average levy asked for in 69 city districts is 4 19 mills; in 45 exempted village districts 3 59, and in 504 local districts 3 87.

Two Drivers Arrested

Two traffic arrests were reported by the Marion office of the state highway patrol this morning.

Clarence Turner, 28, of Columbus, was arrested on Route 23 at 11.10 last night for driving without an operator's license. He was held in the city jail for appearance in Municipal Court today.

Harold Lietz, 46, of Sidney, was arrested for speeding on Route 4 at 4 25 p.m. yesterday. He was cited for appearance in Municipal Court today.

Man Enters Not Guilty Plea to Fraud Charge

A Marion man arrested by Marion city police Wednesday morning on a warrant charging fraud pleaded not guilty in Municipal Court yesterday.

Kenneth Keith Campbell, 46 of 581½ E. George St. was arrested at 9 54 a.m. Wednesday at the police station on a warrant signed by Roscoe Clemons of Marion. He posted $100 bond for a hearing in court Friday.

Clemons, in the affidavit, charges that Campbell falsely pretended to him that he would install plumbing material at 1028 N. State St. and unlawfully obtained $86 from Clemons with intent to defraud.

These Days

By George Sokolsky

The effort of Communist unions to hold their control of segments of labor is encountering opposition in the rank and file of the workers. Among the many fights on this question is that in the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers

SOKOLSKY

The "Miner's Voice," a publication issued by miners in Butte, Montana, has been sent to me and right on the front page is the heading "Fight's on for Free Unionism."

That is an accurate and correct phrase, "Free Unionsim," for under Communism there is no free unionism, the workers are slaves in the hands of an elite controlled by a political party.

THE MOST objectionable Communist-controlled union in this country is the UE., the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America.

This Communist-dominated union still holds contracts with such important companies as General Electric, contracts authorized by the National Labor Relations Board. Expelled from the CIO, these Communist unions are reorganized by business and government, but the workers are rebelling against them.

The Butte Miner's Union in their 1953 convention, raised this issue. Let me quote

"Today, in 1953, the IU of MM & SW is expelled from the main stream of organized labor, expelled on charges of Communist influence and isolated from the bulk of organized labor.

"Membership has dropped to nearly half of what it was in 1946. At the recent convention in St. Louis there were only 212 delegates representing. . . 82 local unions.

"While the reports at the convention did not disclose the sorry dozens of bargaining certification elections they did show that the IU of MM & SW was raided in 50 properties this year."

IN A WORD, the workers are leaving another Communist-controlled and dominated union.

Not business, not the government fights these enemies of our country, but the workers leave them, joining other unions or taking their locals elsewhere.

The Butte Union asks:

"Why did Mine-Mill lose nearly half of its former membership? Why did several dozens of local unions leave Mine-Mill from 1947 to 1950? Why did Mine-Mill then have to fight off raids by CIO and AF of L Unions almost in every section of its jurisdiction in the United States and Canada? Why all the dissention (sic), fights, secession, expulsions, controversies, investigations, costly legal battles, raids, election losses, resignation of opposition officers, undermining and firing of persons who differ in political opinion and other disorders which took place in Mine-Mill during the past few years?"

AND THEY give the answer

"It is no secret that dissention over the injection of the Communist Party line into the program and policies of the IU of MM & SW caused three waves of secession of locals during the past eight years as well as the isolation and the general distrust the International Union is suffering now."

There is another point to all this. The American worker is a patriotic citizen who does not regard himself as a proletarian.

He often owns his own home; belongs to a church alongside the very boss for whom he works; his children go to high school and college.

He votes in elections and sometimes runs for public office. He resents being made into a class-conscious stooge.

SO HE RESENTS being classified as an agent of a foreign enemy. He resents anyone turning his union into an agency of a foreign enemy. This is what the Butte miners have to say on this subject

"The official publication has not reflected the social, economic, and political thinking of the membership and has pursued a Communist 'blame America'—'hate America' line on peace and other international issues."

This looks like a good fight for elementary Americanism against the control of a union by a foreign power.

In the Fort Manmouth investigation of the McCarthy Committee, it is known that even in such a sensitive area, where our radar developments took place, a Communist union was organized. This will all come out in detail when the hearings are open and will shock the country even as the Rosenberg trial shocked America

Communists, on orders of a foreign foe, could, if permitted to dominate a union, at a critical moment, use this power to interfere with American production.

The Communist-controlled union ought to be forbidden absolutely in this country.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

I packed my bags with the most subversive, revolutionary and inflammatory literature I could find I made notes of the most vital secrets of the U S. - Canadian uranium, atomic and heavy water (for H - bomb) projects I even marked these notes for transmission to spies long ago exposed by Elizabeth Bentley and Whittaker Chambers but still freely roaming the East

RIESEL

Then I crossed and recrossed the Canadian border with the highly classified data given me here. No one stopped me No border guards even checked my car license number or name Just asked where I was born I told them. They said go ahead

I worked out this project for myself when I discovered that the official publication of the Canadian mining industry, "The Northern Miner," published here, was coddling and publicly praising a Communist union some of whose leaders and advisers have refused to deny under oath before U S congressional committees that they participated in espionage against the U S

THIS UNION'S national attorney, Nat Witt, has actually just been named in U S, Congressional testimony as the leader, at one time, of the Communists underground cell in our government

I refer to the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union. Its officials now have free run of the most vital uranium and super-secret heavy water plants in Canada.

If I, in a few hours, could learn here just how the uranium is smuggled in the newest of plants, how much goes to us and just what the ultra - secret heavy water plant at Trail, B C., does — so can the leaders of this sovieteering union

Yet the official publication of the Canadian mining industry praises this union because it undersells other unions by signing lower wage contracts

IN OTHER WORDS, for a few dirty pennies per hour per man, the Canadians are willing to do business with a union whose officials have been linked by congressional committees many times over with the Communist International

This Northern Miner actually said editorially in its Oct 1 edition that the notorious Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union (soon to be exposed completely by a U.S Senate committee) was better than David McDonald's clean and anti-Communist CIO United Steelworkers of America because "The pro-Communist outfit renewed its contracts at previous wage rates.

"This union (the Mine-Mill outfit), for all its faults, knows the economic score, whereas the Steelworker's (union) apparently does not."

THIS MEANS to me that the Canadians prefer to do business with an anti-American union because the left wing outfit, of course, will accept lower wage rates to stay inside such plants as the pivotal heavy water installation at Trail, on which much of our continental defenses rest

Just what do these penny-hungry Canadian officials mean by saying casually "for all its faults" when they refer to this union led by the most ardent pro - Communist propagandists?

Let me tell you about these "faults" of this dangerous union There is an opposition group inside it The anti-Communists are miners from Butte, Mont.

This is what they tell me has been happening inside the union which knows many of our atomic secrets

THE MINE-MILL Union's official publication has virtually never reflected the social, economic and political sentiments of the membership, but has constantly "pursued a Communist blame-America and hate-America line."

The sovieteering national headquarters has dropped its own metal curtain over its financial transactions.

The practice of "furnishing local unions with a thorough and itemized account of expenditures which enables local unions and members everywhere to check and compare expenses has been discontinued"

The constitutional requirement that union organizers in these strategic metal fields be hired from among the membership instead of from the outside has been ignored Instead, the comrades' political friends are being hired.

The practice of furnishing affiliated local unions with a mailing list of other sister locals in the international Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union "has been abolished despite the fact that the constitution guarantees the mailing list for free and uncensored communication of ideas between local unions."

THIS MEANS that affiliates in one part of the country now no longer know exactly who belongs to the international organization—something unheard of in other unions.

And, of course, party-liners are constantly dispatched by the national headquarters to interfere with the work of the few non-Communist officers and to spread Soviet - line propaganda, even through the expensive motion picture medium.

This is a terror machine in the heart of our continent.

It keeps on an isolated island of silence a union which overnight can cripple production of virtually every strategic metal needed for every one of our tanks, airplanes, guns and nuclear bombs

Fair Game

By Inez Robb

One of the most inspirational literary contests, for women only, in the nation's history is just now shaking up and getting under way.

INEZ ROBB

The subject, one of the most astute in no contest history, is, "Why I'd Like To Marry A Millionaire." Any woman in her right mind with pencil and a three-cent stamp is eligible. Age, creed, color, financial condition are no bar. The entrant does not even have to qualify with a how hard on Hollywood really is bucks or a kernel of pop-corn these days, nonetheless I think the bought on the way into a theater contest is worth while

Goaded by enlightened self-interest a Hollywood movie company which by no coincidence is just releasing a picture with a name almost parallel to that of the contest subject, is sponsoring this bout of bad letters

I HAD ALREADY assembled pencil and paper and was even making some mental notes on what to do with a millionaire after the house, when I had a canny impulse to call the movie company and ask what type millionaire was the big first prize, super special payoff

It stands to reason, I figured, that everyone ought to know whether she is about to win a Tommy Manville, a Winthrop Rockefeller or a Texas type millionaire

Well, a vice-president of the movie company explained a little huffily that this is an impersonal, high-type intellectual contest with millionaires actually given away

At first I thought he meant the company was just going to give away the million without the ante But it turns out that all the winners will receive is the air, or a reasonable facsimile in the form of perfume, beauty kits and glamorous bathing suits

ALTHOUGH THIS is terribly disappointing and just goes to prove these days, nonetheless I think the contest is worth while

If a woman will just sit down and figure out why she would like to marry a millionaire, she may discover that it isn't too hard to learn how to turn the trick

Furthermore, this contest ought to help dispose, once and for all, of a lot of silly axioms floating around the country such as 'money isn't everything,' 'can money buy happiness?' and 'what this country needs is a good five-cents.'

Never knock money, is my policy I have never had any complaints about money except that there isn't enough of it and that the distribution leaves much to be desired.

What this county really needs is a good $5 000 bill or which the general public can readily get its mitts Nickel stuff is just that and no more

AND, SINCE I am speaking a kind word for money, there was a play on Broadway a few seasons ago by Ruth Gordon in which a stout New England character, full of wisdom and homely virtue, opined that in all his life he had never encountered any situation which was worsened by money

Furthermore, it is our duty to love rich people, too Ask any [illegible] loved become hermits, misogynists or misers, perish forbid.

I have heard that it is just as easy to love a rich man as a poor one and keep all the money in circulation

Even the Democrats say if we don't keep money in circulation, the nation is likely to have a depression. So it is really a girl's patriotic duty to marry a millionaire if she can

So I am going to write the Hollywood contest editor that I want to marry a millionaire simply because I am an upstanding American who wants to share the wealth and doesn't know how to do it.

New Engineer For Erie Kent DivisionNamed

James P. Morrissey Of Huntington, Ind., Succeeds Pierce Here

James P. Morrissey, whose family has been connected with the Erie Railroad for more than 100 years, has been named new division engineer of the Kent Division, with headquarters in Marion. His appointment was announced today by Blair Blowers, chief engineer.

He will assume the position Nov. 1, suceeding R. J. Pierce, who has been transferred to Youngstown as division engineer of the Mahoning division. Pierce had been in Marion since 1950.

Morrissey started with the Erie at Buffalo in 1927 as a rodman and advanced through various engineering corps jobs at Dunmore, Pa., and Jersey City. In 1940, he went to Port Jervis, N. Y., as general yard foreman and then returned to Dunmore as track supervisor in 1943, going to Warsaw, N. Y., the following year in that capacity. He was promoted to assistant division engineer at Salamanca, N. Y., in 1944 and advanced to division engineer at Huntington, Ind., in 1950.

Morrissey's grandfather, Patrick J. Morrissey, helped build the original tracks which connected the Great Lakes with the Atlantic Ocean in 1851. He is the third generation to work for the Erie Railroad.

Pierce's career with the Erie Railroad started in 1921 when he worked as a helper in mason, plumbing, track, signal and carpenter crews during summer vacations. A native of Salamanca, N. Y., he attended schools in Elmira, Hornell, the University of Rochester and University of Michigan.

In 1927, he became a rodman in the engineering corps at Hornell and advanced through the various positions to chief of corps at Dunmore, Pa., in 1934. He was promoted to general foreman at Buffalo in 1935, track supervisor in 1940, and assistant division engineer at Hornell, 1940, Salamanca, 19414, and Buffalo, 1943. Mr. Pierce became division engineer at Dunmore in 1944, a position he held until coming to Marion.

Succeeding Morrissey at Huntington will be Ronald H. Jordan of Buffalo, division engineer there since 1951.

CUT GAS PRICE

CLEVELAND (AP)—The price of regular gasoline dropped two-tenths of a cent per gallon today at Standard Oil Co. of Ohio stations. The company—usually a pace setter in this state—said it was reducing the price to dealers except where lower prices already are in effect. The price of premium gas remains unchanged.

Galion's Mardi Gras Program Set for Tonight

Special to The Star

GALION— Fair and cool weather is predicted for tonight to assure planners of Galion's Mardi Gras and celebration of Ohio's Sesquicentennial that it will be a gala event.

Governor Frank J. Lausche is expected to arrive in Galion shortly after 7 p.m. to ride with Mayor Jay F. Nichols in the old-fashioned landau in the parade that will move at 8 o'clock.

Walter Goshorn and George Mc-New who were in charge of plans for the Sesqui celebration and the Mardi Gras had registrations for 64 units in the parade. Jesse E. Sunchelfer is the parade marshal.

Prizes will be given for the best floats, groups, and individuals, in depicting themes of the past and the Mardi Gras.

Visitors in Galion this week are also spending hours in a trek down the Main street to view the many treasured heirlooms and museum pieces that are being displayed in windows of Galion merchants and business houses.

DUCK HUNTERS FINED

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Judge Frank L. Kloeb fined two hunters $25 each yesterday for shooting ducks in baited areas. They were James R. Tyrell, co-lessee of a marsh in Ottawa County, and William T. Kahlhff of Elyria. Two Akron men—Ralph Moss and S. L. K[illegible]—were fined $50 and costs each on similar charges.

16 Candidates Vie for 10 Marion Council Seats

4 Who Seek Office Are Not Opposed For Re-Election

Who's who among the candidates for city council?

That's probably what many Marion voters are wondering as the Nov. 3 election date draws near.

Sixteen candidates have entered the race for seats on the 10-man council. However, four of them are unopposed, assuring them of positions on the council.

The Republican candidate for council president, William G. Slack, 72, is unopposed as he seeks his sixth term in that office.

—:—

ACTIVE IN CITY government since 1913, Slack has spent 30 years on the council, 10 of them as president. He was also city safety-service director in 1920 and 1921.

Slack retired last June after 48 years as an estimating engineer at the Marion Power Shovel Co. A native of Green Camp, he was graduated from Green Camp High School and took courses from the International Correspondence School and at Ohio State University.

His wife is the former Miss Vera Barnhart of Marion, and they have three sons all living in or near Marion. Slack resides at 448 Summit St.

Six candidates, three from each party, are running for the three councilman-at-large seats.

Named on the Republican ticket are Warren Diehl, Robert G. Haldeman and Richard E. Lister. Running on the Democratic slate are William H. Simmons, C. R. Thomas Jr., and James C. Wygle. Haldeman and Simmons are incumbent.

—:—

A NATIVE OF MARION, Diehl, 35, has been employed by the Osgood Co. for five years and now holds the post of purchasing agent. He previously spent three years with the Marion Power Shovel Co.

His wife is the former Miss Martha Miller, also of Marion. They have a two and one-half-year-old daughter and live at 288 Forest St. A graduate of Harding High School, Diehl saw four years of war-time service with the Navy.

An industrial salesman for the Probst Supply Co., Haldeman, 38, is now serving his first term as a councilman-at-large. A native of Marion, he was graduated from Harding High School and attended Ohio State University.

He served four years with the Navy, being discharged with the rank of Lt. (j.g.). Haldeman is a member of the Community Foundation and the Foremen's Club. He lives with his wife and three children at 568 Windsor St.

ALTHOUGH 33-year-old Lister is seeking his first political office, he has been active in civic affairs for several years.

He is now chairman of the suburban division of United Appeals and a member of the City Traffic Commission, the Aviation Committee of the Chamber of Commerce and the Executive Committee of the Ohio State Fire Safety Committee. He holds the latter post by appointment of Governor Frank J. Lausche.

In the past Lister was president of the Marion Junior Chamber of Commerce, vice president of the Ohio Junior Chamber of Commerce, county chairman of the cancer campaign and budget chairman of the George Washington PTA. A native of Marion, he attended Harding High School and served three years with the Air Force during the last war. Since then he has been employed by the McDaniel Motor Co. and holds the position of sales manager. Lister lives with his wife and small children at 261 Clover Ave.

Simmons, 51, represented the Second Ward on city council from 1942 to 1945 and has served as councilman-at-large by appointment since May 1952. He has been a member of the Marion Civil Service Commission for six years.

A native of Vinton County, he attended public schools in Worthington and moved to Marion 32 years ago. He is a machinist at the Marion Diesel Shop of the Erie Railroad, his employer for the past 31 years. Simmons lives at 520 Oak St. The former Miss Emma Ballard of Marion is his wife.

THOMAS, 49, who lives at 1003 E. Center St., was born and raised in Marion County and was graduated from Prospect High School. An electrician at Marion Metal Products for the past 11 years, he attended the Milwaukee School of Engineering for three years.

He is chairman of the legislative committee and past steward of the shop committee of Roosevelt Lodge No. 1281, AFL. He has been a member of the Citizens Committee of Marion for three years. Thomas served one year with the Navy just after World War I.

Wygle, who is 36, is a native of Marion and a graduate of Harding High School. He served more than three years with the Air Force during World War II. He has been a Democratic Committeeman for Precinct 6-E for one year.

He has been employed for 17 years as a machinist at the Marion Power Shovel Co. His wife is the former Miss Jane Stoneman of Marion, and they are the parents of two sons, aged 10 and 8. The Wygle home is at 382 Reed Ave.

Democrat Harold Smith and Republican Raymond F. Donaugh are vying to represent the First Ward on city council.

Smith, now in his third term on council, is a member of the Democratic Central Committee and a past president of the Marion Democratic Club.

Smith, who is 55, is a native of Prospect and has lived in Marion for 40 years. For the past 20 years he has been a salesman for the Brewing Corp. of America.

His wife is the former Miss Margaret E. Young of Marion and they have one son, serving with the Army, one son serving with the Marine Air Corps and a daughter at home, 396 Park St.

DONAUGH, 51, is seeking his first public office after much activity in church and civic organizations.

He is a member of Greenwood Evangelical United Brethren Church and president of the trustees, a Sunday School teacher and director of the Sunday School orchestra. He is also chairman of the Evangelical United Brethren Union Revival Committee and a member of the Gideon Society, Marion Encampment. In the past he served for two years on the city softball commission and as president of the Mark St. PTA.

A native of Marion, Donaugh is a graduate of Harding High School and is now accountant for Malo Bros. and Sons. He lives at 439 Ballentine Ave. and is the father of two grown sons.

In the Second Ward the council race is between James C. Jenkins and Maynard Smith.

Jenkins, the incumbent Democratic candidate, has represented the ward on the council for three terms. He is a member of the Democratic Central Committee and Vice Chairman of Local No. 1947, United Steelworkers of America. He has been a finish grinder at the Alloy Cast Steel Co. for the past 20 years.

Jenkins, who is 53, is a native of Champaign County and attended public schools there. He lives with his wife at 287 Rose Ave.

Smith, 43, the Republican candidate, is a native of Marion and has lived here most of his life. A graduate of Harding High School, he has been personal loan manager of the Fahey Banking Co. for the past eight years. Formerly, he was associated with the City Loan Co. for eight years.

His wife is the former Miss Catherine O'Keefe of Marion. They live at 535 Oak St. with their 13-year-old son. Smith is a member of the Chamber of Commerce.

—:—

DEMOCRAT Herman L. Rinehart, 42, of 747 Davids St., is unopposed for the Third Ward seat.

The name of Frank Shoemaker will appear on the ballot, but he has withdrawn from the election. Shoemaker submitted his withdrawal after the ballots were printed.

Rinehart has served three terms on council. For eight years he has been an officer of the Marion Industrial Union Council and now holds the position of second vice president.

He has also served as treasurer of Local No. 2721, U. S. A., CIO, for the past seven years and has been active in the polio fund campaign.

A native of Morrow County and a graduate of Martel High School, Rinehart has lived in Marion 18 years, being employed as a steel worker at the Pollak Steel Co. during that period. His wife is the former Miss Hilda Smith of Caledonia, and they have a 10-year-old daughter.

The contest for the Fourth Ward council seat is between Democrat Closs G. Musgrave and his Republican opponent Ralph W. Williams.

Musgrave, 55, is a native of Hardin County but has lived in Marion for 32 years. He is a machinist at the Osgood Co.

His wife is the former Miss Reva Neidig of Marion and they have two married daughters and one son. Musgrave lives at 637 Miami St.

Williams, who is 50, is a lifelong resident of Marion, attending local public schools and business college. He has been employed for 29 years by the New York Central Railroad, the past 10 years as chief clerk and cashier of the Ohio Division.

Williams has served for eight years as a committeeman from Precinct 4-A. During the last war he organized and captained the Fourth Ward civilian defense unit.

He and his wife, the former Miss Emily Grace Brokaw of Marion, live at 246 Chase St. They have three married sons, a married daughter, a son serving with the Air Force and a daughter at home.

—:—

REPUBLICAN Don E. Quaintance, 38, is unopposed in the Fifth Ward. He is now serving his second term on the council.

A native of Marion, Quaintance attended Harding High School and is now a buyer for Uhler's Department Store. He is a member of the Chamber of Commerce and has been active in Red Cross work.

His wife is the former Miss Jane Rogers of Marion and they live at 483 Courtland Terrace with their four children.

Frank Harold Fralich, of 250 Merchant Ave., is also unopposed as he seeks his second term as Sixth Ward representative on city council. He is running on the Republican ticket.

Fralich is a past president of the Marion County Young Republicans Club, a director and past treasurer of the Marion Community Concert Association, a director of the Community Chest Foundation, president of the George Washingtn PTA, a director of the Kiwanis Club, a trustee of the Marion County Association of Life Insurance Underwriters and a member of the Marion Executives Club.

For three years boys' work secretary of the YMCA, he has been a field training manager of the Commonwealth Life Insurance Co. for the past two and one-half years.

Fralich, who is 30, received his BA degree from Ohio Wesleyan University in 1947 and did graduate work at the University of Michigan. His wife is the former Miss Marjorie Ann Schoonover of Marion. They have three small children.

Favor for Girl Friend Fatal To Baby Sitter

Lacross High School Junior Substituted For Her Classmate

LA CROSSE, Wis. (AP)—Fifteen-year-old Evelyn Hartley is missing — probably dead — today because she did a favor on Saturday night for a girl friend.

The popular high school junior, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Richard Hartley, has been the object of intensive search since her disappearance in mid-evening five nights ago from the home of Viggo Rasmusen. She was there only because a classmate at La Crosse High School asked her to substitute on a baby-sitting job.

"Evelyn had done no baby sitting for three months," said Dist. Atty. John Bosshard. "Her father tells us she filled in for Rasmusen's regular baby sitter so she could go to a football game. The chances are Evelyn was an accidental victim."

Bosshard declined to name the girl she substituted for.

The football game, between La Crosse State College, where both Dr. Hartley and Rasmusen are professors, and River Falls State College, also was attended by the Rasmusens.

The possibility that a boy friend of Evelyn's might be involved in her disappearance was discounted by Bosshard.

"All the boys she's ever gone out with—and there aren't many—have been cleared," he said. "She had few dates and no steady boy friend. We've even cleared boys who had asked her for dates and had been refused."

Bosshard discounted also a report from Milwaukee that a mysterious man described as being six feet tall and weighing 180 pounds might be involved in the case. The man being sought by Milwaukee police, left a bundle containing two blood-stained shirts at a railway station bootblack stand. The district attorney said it seemed unlikely to him that a man that size could have entered the 14-inch basement window of the Rasmusen home.

Still under investigation here are some 35 to 40 known sex deviates. Still being analyzed by the state crime laboratory at Madison are the stained white bra and panties found two miles outside the city, and the man's trousers found some 12 miles farther down the highway.

COAL TONNAGE UP

CLEVELAND (AP) — Coal shipments to Lake Erie ports for the week ended Monday were 1,323,735 tons, the Ore and Coal Exchange reported today. That raised the season total to within 162 tons of an even 40-million ton figure. On the same date a year ago, the 1952 season total was 34,921,670 tons.

Danville Uses Graphic Traffic Safety Message

DANVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Mounted on the lawn of Danville High School are two badly wrecked automobiles.

School safety authorities placed a sign alongside the smashed cars. It reads:

"One killed, four injured—it could happen to you."

Must Remain on Alert, 1st Marine Division Told

SEOUL (AP)—The chief of the U.S. Marine Corps told the 1st Marine Division today: "We hope you will get home to the States in the not too distant future."

However, Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd, Marine commandant touring the front, added:

"But you know better than I that we can't trust the Communists. For that reason we must remain on the alert."

DOGS COVERED IN WILL

Ada Man Was Insane, Trial Witness Says

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A defense witness in the murder trial of Robert Stober said the 20-year-old Ada, Ohio, defendant was legally insane at the time a liquor store operator was slain.

Stober is on trial for the murder of George Fremin, 53, during a holdup at the latter's store Oct. 4, 1952. Stober pleaded innocent to the charge and innocent by reason of temporary insanity.

Dr. H. R. Unsworth, a neuropsychiatrist, testified last night that in his opinion Stober could distinguish right from wrong but could not control his behavior nor choose between the two while in an epileptic seizure.

He was the second defense witness after the state rested earlier in the night.

Dr. Unsworth said on cross examination that so far as he knew Stober had no history of epilepsy and had no previous seizures until the night of the holdup.

The state succeeded in having an eight-page statement by Stober read to the jury despite the protest of Defense Attorney F. Irvin Dymond that it was incomplete. The statement was made to Asst. Dist. Atty. Raoul Sere who asked the Ohio man if he had said he shot Fremin.

"I guess so," the statement read. Regarding the gun which the state claimed was the murder weapon, Stober said he had bought it in Ada from a friend who "needed the money bad."

"I never got anything so cheap," Stober said.

Writer Sues Comedian, Asks Million in Damages

SANTA MONCA, Calif. (AP)—Suit for $11,017,000 damages has been filed by writer Lewis Meltzer against comedian Danny Thomas and the producers of his television show.

Meltzer charges that Louis F. Edelman, Martero Productions and Thomas orally approved his format for Thomas' series of half-hour shows. He claims he was promised $1,500 a show as chief writer, 5 per cent of the profits and royalties of his format was accepted. Meltzer contends it is his format that is being used.

PLANE CRASHES, NONE HURT

EL CENTRO, Calif. (AP)—A Mexican airliner transporting 80 Mexican contract farm laborers crash landed at the El Centro Naval Auxiliary Air Station last night but all aboard escaped injury.

What's the Secret?

Why are cakes made with Duncan Hines Mixes so moist, so tender, so much like the finest homemade cakes that experts (and friends) can't tell them apart?

The Answer is Simple!

❶ Duncan Hines' knowledge of food and recipes. ❷ Duncan Hines' insistence on use of the finest ingredients . . . and ❸ the fact that you use your own FRESH EGGS!

Duncan Hines AMERICA'S FOREMOST AUTHORITY ON GOOD EATING says:

"No good cook would think of using dried eggs in her prized recipes, and yet factory-dried powdered eggs are the only kind that can be put right into a cake mix package. That's why I ask you to add your own fresh eggs. And that's why—when you use Duncan Hines Cake Mix and your own fresh eggs—you're guaranteed a fresher, bigger cake—better in appearance, freshness and flavor . . . or your money back."

BAKE YOUR FAMILY'S FAVORITE CAKE TONIGHT WITH DUNCAN HINES WHITE, YELLOW, DEVIL'S FOOD, OR SPICE CAKE MIX.

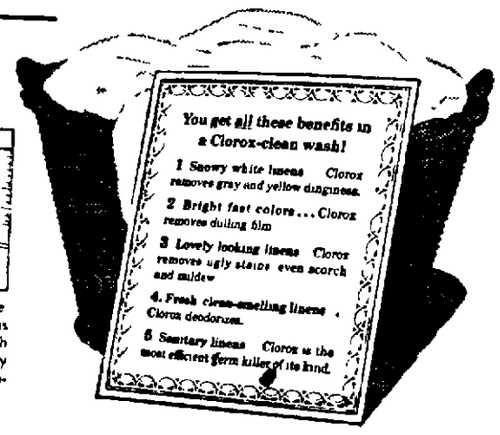
CLOROX makes linens more than white... it makes them sanitary, too!

It's a scientific fact that Clorox not only makes linens snowy-white, removing dinginess, stains, even scorch and mildew, it also makes linens hygienically clean . . . safer for family health! No other home laundering product equals Clorox in germ-killing efficiency!

And keep in mind that Clorox deodorizes, too, leaves linens fresh smelling even when dried indoors—especially important on bad weather washdays. Clorox, a liquid, also conserves your linens. It contains no gritty particles to damage wash and washer—and it's extra gentle, free from caustic, made by an exclusive, patented formula!

For a brighter, fresher, more sanitary bathroom . . . always clean with Clorox!

Yes, in routine cleaning of wash basin, shower, tub, tile, toilet bowl and floor—Clorox not only removes stains and deodorizes, it disinfects—provides added health protection for your family. See the label for the many ways Clorox, America's favorite, can make your housework easier, your household safer!



You get all these benefits in a Clorox-clean wash!
1 Snowy white linens—Clorox removes gray and yellow dinginess.
2 Bright fast colors . . . Clorox removes dulling film.
3 Lovely looking linens—Clorox removes ugly stains, even scorch and mildew.
4. Fresh clean-smelling linens—Clorox deodorizes.
5 Sanitary linens—Clorox is the most efficient germ killer of its kind.

When it's CLOROX-clean . . . it's SAFER for family health!

Feud With Benson Over Subsidies

Brannan, President of Farmers Union Engineered 'Cavalcade' of Cattlemen

By MARTIN S. HAYDEN

WASHINGTON, (NANA) — The publicized march on Washington by a cavalcade of 300 cattlemen protesting Republican farm policy marked a new success peak for two battlers for farmer subsidies ex-Secretary of Agriculture Charles F Brannan and James G Patton, president of the National Farmers Union

For Brannan, the cavalcade headlines made doubly sweet revenge They squared the books for some of the troubles the present agriculture secretary, Ezra Taft Benson, caused him when their places were reversed, in addition Brannan probably savored the front pages as evidence to Governor Adlai E Stevenson that he may have erred last fall in deciding that Brannan was more of a liability than a political asset

For Patton, national interest in the cavalcade stunt was a one-round victory over bigger farm organizations and over critics who have variously assailed him as a dangerous radical, as a demagogue and as the front for a "poor man's" organization

BRANNAN HAS BECOME political counsel for the union, As its lawyer, it is assumed here, the former secretary must have helped Patton in the mapping of the protest strategy

Finally, newspaper headlines identifying Gus F Geissler field commander of the cavalcade, as Patton's chief assistant did not note that he is also a Brannan man When Brannan was Secretary of Agriculture, Geissler actually ran the farm price and subsidy program through, his dual titles as president of the Community Credit Corporation and administrator of the Agriculture Production and Marketing division

Patton the current front man for protesting little farmers is an old hand at battling Benson and every other Secretary of Agriculture in recent years except Brannan

A hard going 51 year-old he has become the nation's most controversial farm leader without having tilled the soil on his own The son of a farmer who died when he was in college Patton was successively a physical education teacher and life insurance salesman before he joined the Colorado Farmers Union in the depth of the depression

HE CAME UP WITH the union during the days when unionized farmers were resisting mortgage foreclosures with shotguns dumping milk in Sioux City, Iowa, and preaching the farmer-labor combine which reached its political peak when William Lemke received 822 000 votes for president in the 1936 election

Some in Washington saw Patton is no the real boss of the farmers union They give that honor to William Thatcher of St Paul, Minn, president of the Farmers Union Grain Terminal Elevator Association an ecoromic co-operative which according to Patton critics is a tail that wags the union dog

Thatcher's co-op has virtual control of the annual crop of durum or hard wheat the hard grain most suitable for manufacture of macaroni and spaghetti It also owns the Semolina Flour Mill that makes these and like products

Patton's backers here deny that Thatcher dictates the policies Patton shall follow They say the co-op is owned, not by the Farmers Union but by individual union members But they admit that by independent vote of Thatcher's board of directors the spaghetti business makes periodic donations of cash to help the Farmers Union cause

PATTON'S POLITICAL philosophy is in equal dispute

Back in the 1940's the old Dies committee of the House called the Farmers Union "Communist dominated" That charge has not been repeated since

Conservative leaders of the national Grange and the Farm Bureau Federation call Patton a socialist They allege he would abolish all capitalism except farm-land ownership, establish rural cooperatives that would own all industry, have labor employed by the co-ops and then have farms worked on a basis of barter for goods that farmers need rather than profit

For himself, Patton says that the organization has saved America from "rural proletarianism" That, he says, is what the country was headed for in the farm depression 20 years ago All he has done, he says is fight for secure farm ownership for "little farmers" and, if that is radicalism, he says, "I'm a radical"

At the moment the "radical" Patton and his lawyer Brannan are the personification of the troubles that beset Secretary Benson.

VON PAULUS. Former Nazi Field Marshal Friedrich von Paulus, who surrendered his army of more than 300 000 men to the Russians at Stalingrad is reported in East Germany after a decade of being held prisoner in the Soviet.

First Whooping Cranes Arrive in Texas Refuge

AUSTWELL, Tex (AP)—Wildlife officials have proudly announced the arrival of six whooping cranes, including one baby whooper at their winter refuge on the Texas Gulf Coast

They are the first of the world's only flock of whooping cranes to arrive at the winter range from their unknown breeding ground somewhere near the Arctic Circle

Now it will be a constant watch and check for other arrivals Only 21 whooping cranes flew north from the Aransas wildlife refuge here last April

Not Chard, Cook Finds

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The cook thought it was swiss chard when she picked the leaves from a tobacco plant in the doctor's garden And now the physician and his wife are recovering from nicotine poisoning the City Health Department announced yesterday.

'Phantom' Gunman In Marietta Turns Out To Be Child, 3

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP)—Marietta rested peacefully today It's "phantom gunman" case is solved The 'Phantom' whose shotgun peppered a couple leaving the courthouse here turned out to be 3½ year old David William on

As for David himself, he hardly knew what it was all about

David was left in the family automobile yesterday afternoon while his mother, Mrs. Bernard William son went shopping The car was parked 50 feet from the courthouse entrance Williamson's 16 gauge shotgun was lying in the back of the car

Betty Fonner Washington County home demonstration agent and Kenneth Ackerman associate county agent left the courthouse after work to be met by a blast from a shotgun Four pellets hit Ackerman on the arm and leg Miss Fonner was struck on the hip and foot.

There were plenty of people around the courthouse and on the street but nobody could tell where the shot came from Police started an investigation

Then Williamson noticed gunshot holes in the side of his car He put two and two together having heard about the courthouse incident and came up with David David in what words he could find to tell about it admitted to his mother that he pulled the trigger of the shotgun

Williamson told authorities he thought he had removed all the shells from the gun

"The dwarf trees are propagated from shoots" he explained "They stay small in size, which means smaller costs for the labor of spraying pruning and picking"

Kinsey Worse on GIs Than Red Propaganda

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dr Kinsey's Sexual Behavior in the Human Female' was more demoralizing to American troops in Korea than Red propaganda, says John Morley, a lecturer who recently returned from the Orient

The Kinsey Report, Morley said [illegible] yesterday, told 200 000 Americans overseas that one out of every four American wives has been unfaithful"

Harding at Peak Strength for Ashland

Prexies After Sixth Win, Meet Weakened Arrows

Coach Pete Howison had his Harding gridders prepped to meet a team which can't be as bad as its record indicates in their battle tonight at Ashland.

Although the Arrows have notched only one win and a tie thus far Pete was far from confident this morning. The Ashland squad, scouted last week in its 37-0 lacing by Wooster, was described by the Prexy coach as looking "beat up." Injuries have plagued the Arrows all season and only this week, Coach Harry Miller lost one starter and may be without the services of another.

Tackle Dave Wells is out for the rest of the season. He suffered a broken jaw in a practice session early this week and Miller is still seeking a replacement. The Arrows may be playing without the services of Fullback Roger Wissler. He suffered a minor concussion in a game two weeks ago and has been out of school this week with "terrible headaches."

Harding's squad will be at full strength for the tilt. Only gridder missing will be Jim Whaley who Pete says is probably out for the season. Whaley was hospitalized recently by an attack of food poisoning and has not returned to practice.

Howison will probably send in his usual starting lineup for the Ashland battle. That will put Gene Armstrong and Bob Stauffer at ends, Frank D'Eramo and Bob Hamor at tackles, Abner Thomas and Whitey Clinger at the guards and Bob Caldwell at center. The backfield will include Chet King and Joe Albinack at halfbacks, Chug Ballinger at full and Fred Price and Don Schweinfurth sharing the quarterbacking. Defensively Pete will line up with Fred Hazen, D'Eramo, Larry Harper, Hank Rinnert, Larry Sager, Hamor and Clinger listed as linemen with Doug Bibler, Price, Joe Snouffer and Gary Huber in the backfield posts.

Harding has been drilling all week on stopping the single wing attack of the Arrows with special emphasis placed on a series run off a buck lateral play.

The teams will be battling for possession of the Erie Railroad trophy to be presented to the winning school for one year. The bell recently presented to Harding by the Erie was transported to Ashland early this week and will be carried to the stadium tonight in a parade from the Erie Railroad station to the stadium. The Ashland band along with a truck bearing the bell will meet the Harding Boosters Club train at the station and the parade will then form. The Harding band will also make the trip and march in the parade. The bell, from an old Erie steam locomotive, will be presented the winner immediately following the game. Should Harding win, the Erie will transport the 300-pound trophy back to Marion.

Writer Picks OSU, Spartans In Grid Games

By HAROLD CLAASEN

NEW YORK (AP)—This forecaster suffered no broken bones but that spill into Upset Gulch last Saturday will leave permanent marks. Of 50 decisions, 38 were predicted correctly for an average of .760.

That's only a little worse than the season's figures, however, which show 196 correct and 48 wrong for .766.

There are more upsets in this list of forecasts but you will have to find them yourself:

Notre Dame over Navy: Navy had this game in mind last Saturday when it slumbered to a 9-6 defeat but Coach Frank Leahy's illness gives the Irish enough incentive to win.

Maryland over South Carolina: The Maryland homecomers get a chance to cheer their own Bernie Faloney.

West Virginia over Penn State: If the Mountaineers, who now have won 11 in a row, take this one they should go through the season unbeaten. They will have to check the passing of Tony Rados to do it.

Michigan State over Oregon State: This could be a massacre. Oregon State couldn't even score in its first five games.

Michigan over Penn: The Ivy Leaguers have no Paul Giel to torment the Wolverines. The Big Ten team will win with relative ease.

Minnesota over Pittsburgh: This is your TV feature of the day. Paul Giel, who completely demoralized Michigan last week, hardly will be as brilliant again but his mates should win. Pitt offers Eldred Kramer, a good tackle, in rebuttal.

UCLA over California: Paul Cameron to tear up the sod as UCLA moves another step closer to that Rose Bowl job Jan. 1.

Southern Methodist over Texas: Anything can happen when two Texas teams play each other. The Mustangs defeated Kansas last week on a fumble and a pass interception. They have saved all their scoring plays for Texas.

Georgia Tech over Vanderbilt: Vanderbilt isn't Notre Dame.

Army over Tulane: The Cadets have discovered some backfield speed since that early season loss to Northwestern. Tulane hobbled by backfield injuries.

Illinois over Purdue: Purdue has won its game of the year.

Finishing the others:

Midwest: Oklahoma over Kansas State, Colorado over Iowa State, Indiana over Missouri, Nebraska over Kansas, Ohio State over Northwestern, Oklahoma A&M over Tulsa, Iowa over Wisconsin.

Card Stadium Gets General Overhaul

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals, building for a National League pennant, are building from the ground up.

They're remodeling Busch Stadium—from top to bottom.

Included in the face lifting are new seats—measuring 21 inches across the beam as compared to the old 18-inch width—new dugouts, new player clubhouses and a new drainage system for the infield.

Also on tap in the million-dollar program, to be completed by opening day next spring, is a genuine garden in what once were the center field bleachers.

Present construction represents $650,000 of the over-all cost. The balance was spent last season in giving the park a new paint job and on necessary structural repairs. The total cost is well over the $400,000-a-year maintenance estimate made by August A. Busch, Cardinal owner, when he bought the park last summer.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

Even though the pennant races have been over for the better part of a month, baseball notes continue to pop up on the sports pages. One small item near the bottom of the page last week and one last night, caught the attention of several readers of The Star.

SHORT

Both told of Larry Doby belting home runs for a barnstorming team headed by Roy Campanella of the Dodgers. Both homers accounted for wins.

Many fans insist the two blasts were flukes and that Doby 'can't hit under pressure when the pennant race is going on.' We don't agree but have only one point to offer in our behalf. Although the official averages haven't been released by the American League office, we'd be willing to wager, Doby will rank no worse than sixth or seventh in the Runs Batted In Derby and very close to the top in the race for homer laurels. With 100 or more runs driven in any player has to be hitting once in a while when the pressure is on.

We have noticed, however, that the fans now panning Doby are the same ones who spent the season blasting Al Rosen until Al's outstanding season this summer.

The Tribe's Luke Easter and Harry Simpson also are on a winter tour with a team led by Jackie Robinson. Easter led the team to a win over the Yankee's Ed Lopat last week. The big first sacker pounded out a pair of homers and a single to drive in five runs.

MOVING UP. Several of the former Marion Red Sox have been shifted or will be moved in the Boston farm system come next year.

The parent club recently announced the purchase of two former catchers here to fill their winter 40-man roster.

They are Eddie Sadowski, who played here in 1952, and Guy Morton, who put in a season here a year before. Morton's contract was purchased from Albany while the Bosox bought Sadowski outright from the Louisville Colonels. Sadowski, in addition to splitting the catching with Max Ross, played at first base and also put in a stint in the outfield. He was one of the most dependable hitters on Elmer Yoter's pennant-winning club.

The Colonels strengthened their triple-A roster after the season also. Al Schroll, another former Marsox performer, was called up from Greensboro and pitcher Bill Zonner, a southpaw, was promoted from Albany. Also called up from Albany was Bruce Weaver. He will be shooting to take the post held down this year by Harry Agganis for the Colonels. The hard-hitting first baseman played here during the last season for the Marion Red Sox.

St. Mary Favored

Irish Protect Win Streak In Game Friday at Carey

St Mary shouldn't have too much trouble stretching its win streak to six tomorrow night when the Irish travel to Carey to meet the injury-riddled Blue Devils who have only one victory in six starts.

The Irish will be at near peak strength for the game. Only Ted Kilbury, who shares the left halfback duties with John Messenger, may be out of the contest with a pulled back muscle and bruised ribs. Guard Jerry Ballenger has a bruised hip but should be ready.

Carey, on the other hand, will be operating without the services of three regulars, right half Dan Dible, center Jack Dotson and guard Dick Corran. In addition, the regular ends, Dwight Orians and Dick Dennison, will be slowed down with sore ankles and knees.

The two squads have had only one common opponent Richwood who bowed to St. Mary 55-6 and downed Carey 13-7.

Although the indications are that tomorrow's contest will be a breather for the Irish, Coach Ray Robbins denies that it will. He expects the Blue Devils to make a close contest of it.

If it is a breather, it will be a welcome one. Next week St Mary meets its toughest opposition of the season, Mansfield Madison.

On the Irish offense Pat O'Connor and Don Shoemaker will hold down the ends with John Kelly and Ed Quinn at the tackles, Jerry Ballenger and Bob Campton at the guards, and Jack Schnitzler at center. Roger Micheli will quarterback the offensive backfield with Larry Ryan in the fullback slot Mike Anderson will be running at right half and either John Messenger or Ted Kilbury will be at left half.

Defensively, Robbins will use about the same lineup. It will probably be O'Connor and Dick Mautz on the ends, Quinn and Schnitzler at the tackles, and Campton and Kelly at the guard spots.

Ryan and Ballenger will back up the line with Anderson and Kilbury playing the half back positions and Messenger at safety.

The Irish defense has been scored upon only once. That was last week during St. Mary's 55-6 rout of Richwood.

In its other four victories the St. Mary squad shut out Columbus 27-0, Lima St. Rose 7-0, Mt Gilead 36-0 and Columbus St Mary 20-0.

The hapless Carey aggregation has bowed to Oak Harbor 13-12, Mansfield Madison 26-6, North Baltimore 18-7, Richwood 13-7, and Bedford, Mich. 38-6 Its only victory was over Ada 34-14.

A LA CARTE

ATLANTA, Ga. (UP) — Homer Myers, 21-year-old fugitive arrested here recently after he was found working in a restaurant, told police he escaped from prison twice because "I just get tired of eating peas." He said he took the restaurant job so "I could eat what I wanted."

Brown Expects Trouble From Redskin Team

CLEVELAND (AP) — Washington's Redskins, who came within 12 minutes of grabbing the league lead the first time they met Cleveland, limp into Ohio Sunday for another shot at Coach Paul Brown's undefeated Browns.

The 'Skins—unbeaten until they met Cleveland two weeks ago—led the Browns by one point early in the fourth period of the first game. But then Cleveland's Otto Graham pitched to Dante Lavelli for a 26-yard touchdown.

Brown, of course, expects more trouble this time. "It's always harder the second time you play a team," he says, "especially when you've won the first one."

"Then, too, our fellows have been on a pretty sharp mental edge for two weeks in a row," he added. "We were up for Washington and even higher for the (New York) Giants last Sunday.

"That doesn't go on forever. There's bound to be a letup and that's when your upset occur."

Dick McCann, the Washington general manager, takes issue with that theory, at least where the Browns are concerned.

He contends Brown "must be a master psychologist. Other teams have letdowns and get pushed over by opponents that didn't figure to beat 'em. That never — or hardly ever—seems to happen to the Browns."

Former Boxing Champ Wins Bout With Death

CAMARILLO, Calif. (UP) — Old time lightweight champion Ad Wolgast apparently has escaped from his latest brush with death in a state mental hospital here.

Stricken with a respiratory ailment several weeks ago, the 63-year-old man who won the lightweight title in 1910 and lost it in 1912 is back sitting and dozing in his wheelchair.

Wolgast is a mere shell of a once rugged ring fighter and has been in and out of mental institutions since 1916. He last fought a match in 1920.

Barons Beat Troy, Take Second Place

Vejprava Provides Spark On Three-Goal Hat Trick

GORDON VEJPRAVA

Gordie Vejprava sparked the Marion Barons to an 8-3 win over the visiting Troy Bruins in an International Hockey League battle last night at the Coliseum The Golden Boy' turned in his second hat trick of the season as the Barons climbed into a tie for second place in the league

Toledo clings to the league lead as the Mercurys won last night over Louisville 7 0

The Barons showed little effect of an all night road trip following their game Tuesday night at Milwaukee They went ahead after less than four minutes of play when Julian Kivimaki at 3 21 Del Smith received an assist on the play Although the Bruins came back to tie the score when Bill Lindsey scored at 19 40 the Barons never trailed

Lindsay, with an assist going to Gordon Buttrey and Bill Swarbrick powered the disk by Tom Crowdis in the closing minute of the frame However, Lindsay was injured on the play He crashed into the pipe support on the net and injured his right leg He was carried from the rink and taken to a local physician's office where X rays were taken He returned home with his mates

In the second period Vejprava put the Marion club ahead when he scored his first two goals The first came after 5 39 had elapsed and the second at 1 47 Paul Emms assisted on both

In the third period fans were treated to a free scoring duel as seven goals were scored five of them by Marion Joe Ingoldsby collected the clinching counter after only 1 59 had elapsed He was assisted on his effort by Allen Kellogg and Wimpy Jones Harold Jones came back at 3 09 with an unassisted goal and Ken Schultz added another at 6 48 before Troy scored Schultz was assisted by Wimpy Jones and Ingoldsby Swarbrick scored for the Bruins at 7 09 to cut the lead to 6 2 He was unassisted Harold Jones came back for the winners at 16 32 to score with assists going to St John and Wilkie Vejprava wound up the Marion scoring at 17 46 with an unassisted goal Jack Lindsay ended the scoring at 17 58 with Troy's first goal He was assisted by Steve Gaber and Jim Swick

Ivars Kivimaki was credited with 35 saves from the hard counting Barons forward line Tom Crowdis hurled out 26 Troy attempts at the goal Eleven minor infractions were called by the officials Ron Hudson and Ed Sabo Four of them were against Marion while seven were charged to the visitors Six of the seven were called in a rough first period Rugged Jed Ecboda drew three of the Marion penalties

Heavy Scoring Seen in Ohio's Big Ten Battle

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP)—Two of the weakest defensive teams in the Big Ten will try to outscore each other when Ohio State entertains Northwestern at Ohio Stadium Saturday

The Buckeyes are ninth in the conference defensive The Wildcats from Illinois are eighth

The one platoon system seems to have them both stymied when it comes to taking the ball away from the other team But neither are slouches when it comes to carting it across once they get their hands on it

Quarterback against Dick Thornton considered one of the best in the conference

On the other hand the Cats will need all the defensive strength they can muster to stop the hard running crew of Bobby Watkins and company Bulldozing Bob has scampered over nine touchdowns

Big question facing the Bucks is Johnny Borton's status Borton the Bucks top flight passer from Alliance has missed the last two games because of an ankle injury

'The Rock' May Be in Line for Crack at Title

CLEVELAND (AP)—Rocky Castellani wants a crack at middleweight champion Bobo Olson but as half a dozen other challengers do but he doesn't think he'd have an easy time against the champ

The modest Clevelander ranked No 4 among middleweights showed tremendous improvement last night in winning a unanimous decision against Mickey Lauter of France

Although he appeared to have been hit with less than a dozen solid punches Castellani was [illegible] strong He stunned me in the second round and he hit me with three or four stiff and solid punches Castellani's manager Alvin Nahmam who says he was taken over the fighter 'like he was my own son' since he moved to Cleveland last spring isn't so modest

He would have taken Olson he insists

Nahmias hopes he can set up a December bout here between Castellani and Pedro Ynfante of Puerto Rico a match which he says will have his main attraction champion

Castellani was simply outstanding and Lauter all he was credited Referee Lee Ezzell's scorecard the first round and Referee Harry Kahn's was even going strong on during the last half the fight

After going the end even Referee Ezzell's score was Lauter In this the Frenchman was topped [illegible] but [illegible] Also the first round was the only time when he appeared to have a chance of winning

Y Leaders Club Names Officers

Larry Henry son of Mr and Mrs Harold Henry of 238 Merchant Ave was elected president of the YMCA Leaders Club Wednesday The Club composed of 28 junior and senior high school boys has been organized to provide leadership training and additional guidance for the 20 boys physical education and aquatics classes which meet twice weekly at the YMCA

The Marion Leaders Club will be affiliated with the National YMCA Leaders Club program and initiation of the local group conducted by the Lima YMCA within the next three weeks

The club also elected Sheldon Williams vice president Walter Kessler secretary and Dick Rennels treasurer A club project to raise funds for equipping Leaders in tradional uniform was discussed at the meeting, and the general class organization of all boys physical education classes studied

The Leaders Club adopted tentative plans to bring a portion of the Ohio State University swimming team to the new YMCA pool for an aquatics demonstration and program

The Club also heard plans concerning the annual state leaders convention in the spring and of the competitive program in marksmanship leadership training and swimming which is conducted annually at this convention The Club will meet each Wednesday for one hour on the West Basement floor for a weekly orientation of the physical education program planned for the leader prep and cadet physical education classes

'Big Ben' Clock Still Serving World Liberty

LONDON (UP) — The majestic chimes of Big Ben that carried messages of hope to oppressed peoples in the darkest hours of World War II are tolling the sound of freedom now to peoples behind the Iron Curtain

The world remembers the measured strokes of the great clock in its tower over the House of Commons during the evacuation from Dunkirk The idea of a daily moment of united prayer and silence was born then

It became known as 'the silent minute" signalled by the chiming and the striking of Big Ben at 9 p m each day Americans listening to the war broadcasts of the BBC heard its great bronze beat

And among the resistance movements in Europe and among peoples of the Commonwealth the movement grew during the war until millions were united in keeping this evening tryst together There emerged from this time of trial a Big Ben Council to perpetuate the idea in the cause of freedom

A member of the council said the movement has continued ever since and that Big Ben's symbolic message is reaching now far behind the Iron Curtain into Russia and China

The council includes former ranking officers of the three British fighting services It has been endorsed by Queen Elizabeth and Prime Minister Winston Churchill Nightly, there is the powerful striking at 9 o'clock and then a pause in the broadcasts of the BBC Those beyond reach of the BBC still observe it

During the past year a council member said letters have been received from almost every country in the world indicating that the silent minute' continues to spread"

It is indeed becoming a round the world observance" he said 'It is impossible to synchronize the keeping of the minute at the same moment everywhere and it is the habit of those beyond the reach of Big Ben's voice to remain silent and receptive when their own clocks strike nine each evening

The council has received letters from America all over Europe Australia Africa India China and Russia' expressing loyalty to the common cause of freedom '

A message broadcast in Russian said

We men and women of good will in Britain and elsewhere, wish you your family and all your friends, freedom and happiness

The council recalls the comment of a high Nazi official when asked by British Intelligence "why he thought Germany lost the war

During the war you had a secret weapon for which we could find no counter measure and which we did not understand but it was very powerful" he replied It was associated with the striking of Big Ben each evening

Council members said the world now faces a graver crisis than was even the case in the days of Dunkirk

The piling up of arms atomic and otherwise can but lead to war" they said On the other hand we believe the power of a constructive idea will triumph over evil end the cold war and create the foundation for peace That is why the Big Ben minute is considered to be of such vital importance in the interest of human welfare '

ASTOUNDING'

BIRMINGHAM Ala (UP)—The Birmingham Police department was stunned by a recent letter from a motorist The letter praised Patrolman J W Holland for courteously' giving the motorist a ticket for running a red light

NEW STRATOFORTRESS. This is a model of the new B-52A Stratofortress now in production at Seattle, Wash., for the Air Force Strategic Air Compound. The giant plane is powered with eight J-57 turbojet engines mounted in four sharply raked forward pods under the swept back wing Details of the craft's speed range and other performance have not been revealed by the Defense Department

Man's Revolutionary War Claim Undisputed

KEARSARGE N H (UP)—Lester C Barnes 87 believes he is the only living grandson of a Revolutionary War veteran

His grandfather Amos Barnes fought in the Battle of Bunker Hill before he was 21 and went on to other battles at Quebec and Trenton He was at Valley Forge with Washington

The veteran was 64 at the birth of his youngest son Albert and Albert Barnes was 48 when Lester Barnes was born in 1866

The Sons of The American Revolution has tentatively substantiated Barnes claim

"As far as we know Mr Barnes is right' said the executive secretary, Hazel Brook of Boston There could be another grandson of a Revolutionary War veteran somewhere but we have never heard of one Until we do Mr Barnes has the distinction all to himself

Navy Crews Set Up On Varying Basis

WASHINGTON (UP) — Thinking of enlisting in the Navy? This may give you some idea of how it's set up

The Navy has no basic unit comparable to the Army infantry division Its ships carry crews of varying numbers depending on their size and mission and whether they sail in peace or war

A big attack aircraft carrier has a peacetime crew of 102 officers and 2 100 enlisted men In war this might be enlarged as much as 50 per cent for round the clock operation more damage control men and others

A battleship in peacetime has 72 officers and 1 400 enlisted men A heavy cruiser carries 62 officers 1 350 men

A destroyer has 15 officers and 280 men, and a submarine, seven officers and 72 men

A Navy cargo ship one of the workhorses of the fleet carries about nine officers and 131 men while an amphibious transport has about 32 officers and 371 men

In the smaller craft, an auxiliary motor minesweeper has three officers and 26 men while the lumbering landing ship tank, carries six officers and 87 men

Then there is the organization of the ships themselves Four destroyers make a destroyer division two or more divisions make a squadron two or more squadrons compose a flotilla and there are two or more flotillas in a fleet destroyer force such as the Atlantic fleet Submarines are organized the same way

Battleships cruisers and carriers are grouped into divisions and two or more divisions make a squadron But generally there aren't enough of these larger ships to carry the organization set up higher than that

A Navy air group has about 80 planes 100 to 110 officers and 1 100 men

Government Rules Complicated

Pickles in Pickle Under New Grading

WASHINGTON, (NANA) — Up till now, you've probably thought a pickle was nothing more than a warty vegetable with a whimsical name and a delectable flavor.

Could a pickle be regimented by federal rules and regulation. Never.

But alas the pickle has been discovered by the writers of rules and regulations.

Henceforth, assuming the Agriculture Department's new pickle rules become law, the pickle will be measured, tested and examined.

There will be a score card upon which good and bad pickles are charted—a sort of pickle IQ rating.

As you look at an ordinary garden variety pickle, would you worry whether it is a "curved pickle" or a "very curved pickle?" Probably not but eventually you must.

ACCORDING TO THE government's pickle expert a pickle must have a curve of no more than 35 degrees to be known as "slightly curved." And if the angle be not more than 60 degrees then it is a "very curved" pickle indeed.

Of course, if the pickle hangs on the vine and grows itself into the shape of a strawberry, green pepper, okra or summer squash, that's terrible. Officially, such vegetables will be known as badly crooked or misshapen pickles."

The pickle score card is a complicated method of pedigreeing pickles. All sorts of things go into chalking up the score. A perfect pickle would score 20 points on color, 20 more on uniformity of size and shape, 30 points on absence of defects and 30 points on texture.

None of us is perfect though. So an 85 point pickle gets into the United States fancy, or Grade A pickle class.

If a pickle scores not less than 70 points it can be termed U. S. Standard or U. S. Grade C.

Then there are the size classifications. A No. 1 midget will be a pickle 1½ or less inches long. A No. 2 midget can be 1½ to 1¾ inches.

THERE ARE OTHER classifications of small, medium and large pickles of various numbers winding up with the extra large or 4 4 to 5¼ inch models. Specifications are set up for dills, sour, mixed, sour mixed chow-chow (sour and-or sweet) and sweet pickle relish.

Chow-chow, for instance must be 60 to 80 per cent cucumbers 10 to 30 per cent cauliflower 5 to 10 per cent onions with optional dash of red peppers or pimientoes.

If anybody has any views or arguments to the contrary about the pickle situation they had better get a move on in the next 60 days.

Unless the chief of the processed products standardization and inspection division of the fruit and vegetable branch of the production and marketing administration of the department of agriculture hears from you this will be the last word on pickles.

About 37 per cent of the continent of Europe is farm land, about 10 per cent of North America is farmable and smaller percentages of other continents can be farmed.

Government Sues Five-Year-Old Girl

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — A five-year-old girl is being sued by the federal government for about $2,700.

Little Susan Mickelberg now living with her mother in Colon, Panama, knows nothing about the suit. Her case is being handled for her by the Liberty Real Estate Bank and Trust Co., which was named her guardian.

The government is suing for money it paid to the girl in the death of her father. Cpl. Albert Mickelberg was killed in the Korean fighting.

Mickelberg was reported killed in action in Korea in July, 1950 but he turned up later as a prisoner of the Reds and was repatriated on Aug. 24, 1953.

Eugene F. Mande, attorney for Susan and the bank, said the girl received a $681 payment from the U. S. Army Military Pay Division and death compensation benefits of $58 monthly, including an arrearage of $1,053.

After Mickelberg's name appeared on a list of war prisoners published by the Communists in December, 1951, the government began claiming refunds of the death benefits. But it wasn't until July, 1952 that the Army changed his status from "killed in action" to "captured." The government then filed suit.

Mickelberg was one of two Americans who survived a 300-mile death march under North Korean Reds after their capture July 22, 1950.

Marion 'Ham' Active in Army Action

Operator Joins Others In Exercise Covering Seven-State Area

George F. Schwab of 1200 E. Church St., a radio ham, was one of many members of the Military Affiliate Radio System who took part in the Second Army's command post Exercise Tobacco Leaf III More than 60 ham operators in the seven-state Second Army area participated in the big map exercise held jointly at Ft. George Meade, Md, and Ft Knox, Ky., Saturday and Sunday.

Schwab, who is an engineer with Ohio Edison here, was stationed at Ft Meade, during the maneuver, which was to test communications under national emergency conditions Schwab received messages sent from Ft. Meade by mail and at times relayed the messages to other radio installations The U S scale assault across the Susquehanna River aimed at wresting Philadelphia from a theoretical invader overrunning the northeastern United States during the exercise The entire problem was worked out on maps with no actual employment of troops. The exercise was intended to give Army Reserves and National Guard division staffs realistic practice in national defense planning

The Military Affiliate Radio System functioned as observer, clandestine underground and enemy networks, The observer and underground nets worked with the U S Forces and the enemy net furnished the aggressor's communications.

Schwab's hobby dates back 25 years when he was in high school. Regular station call letters of his receiver at his home is W 8 AJA. while with the Military Affiliate Radio System, his call letters are A 8 AJA Schwab secured his license in 1929 in Indiana, Pa., and has had the same call letters since moving to Marion eight years ago

He says he has talked to everyone all over the world He has received calls from Admiral Byrd's radio operator when the former was on an expedition at the South Pole and from another amateur radio operator at Brisbane, Australia, some 12,500 miles around the world. He has made contact to various Marion residents on calls from other towns and also to relatives here from servicemen stationed in Africa. However, most of the time is spent in civilian defense and with the Military Affiliate Radio System, Schwab says.

During a heavy snow here several years ago when communication and transportation was wiped out, Schwab was one of many ham operators who helped with communication There are some 25 ham radio operators in Marion, Schwab says.

Surgery Recommended For Blood Pressure

CHICAGO (UP) — Surgery is preferable to medical treatment in some severe cases of high blood pressure, according to a report in the Journal of the American Medication Association.

A report by Dr Reginald H Smithwick, professor of surgery in the Boston University School of Medicine, and his associate, Dr Jesse E. Thompson, showed that, at the end of five years, 81 per cent of 1,266 patients who had undergone surgery were still alive, while only 46 per cent of 467 patients who had chosen medical therapy had survived

Smithwick about 15 years ago developed a radical operative technique to reduce high blood pressure It consists of removing large portions of splanchnic nerves which serve various organs within the abdominal cavity.

SMART POLITICS

EVERETT, Mass. (UP) — George Keverian, 22, running for Common Council, discovered a new way to induce registered voters to read about his qualifications. On a pamphlet containing his biography, he put a photograph of the voter's own home and mailed it with a request that the voter vote for him. Keverian finished first in a field of 23.

India has about 179 different languages and 544 dialects says the National Geographic Society.

Executives Like Flying Offices

Industrial Leaders Work in Airplanes

NEW YORK (UP) — One of the major trends in aviation today is increased air travel by busy executives using small office-type planes which permit great flexibility, convenience and economy of transportation, according to industry spokesmen.

These twin-engined planes, described by airmen as the "safest offices over earth," permit businessmen to fly and work their staffs in comfort at speeds in the neighborhood of 200 miles an hour at a moment's notice Many of these planes are outfitted with desks, radio-telephones, dictating machines and other essential office equipment.

Latest available figures show that some 8,000 companies own more than 10,000 planes, of which 4,400 are the so-called executive-type. They range from the $4,775 Piper to the plush DC-3's which cost $200,000 or more.

S B. Withington, vice president of the Avco's Lycoming division, which furnishes the bulk of engines for the nation's smaller executive planes, said

"Executive aircraft have the greatest growth potential of all segments of the civilian aviation industry in the next five years With all manufacturers anticipating a sizeable increase in the use of this type of plane, a 20 per cent gain in five years seems reasonable"

Withington's prediction is borne out by the aircraft manufacturers who are keeping pace with the flying-business boom.

The Beech Aircraft Co., reports that 20 per cent of its production is aimed at the corporate user The Piper Aircraft Corp., sold about 300 four-seaters during the first three months of this year, and virtually all of Aero Commander's 1953 output will go to the flying businessmen.

"The 6 237 airports capable of handling smaller executive planes offer an aviation network that links virtually all cities of any size in the country," Withington pointed out "In the state of Florida alone, you can scarcely ever get out of sight of an airport while flying up the East Coast"

It is believed that bamboo has the most rapid growth among the higher plants.

Kansas Hail Damage Greater Than Cyclones

TOPEKA, Kan. (UP) — Hail storms, not tornadoes, are the weather villains of Kansas, frequently called the cyclone state, a summary by weather observers indicates.

They reported that Kansas storm damage last August amounted to an estimated $322,265. Of that amount, $263,200 was chargeable to hail, while tonadoes cost a paltry $16,115

During the month two tornadoes, nine hail storms, four severe windstorms, and 11 electrical storms occurred in the state.

RUSSIAN PURCHASE

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (UP)—The Soviet Union has bought 3,000 tons of New Zealand butter, is negotiating for purchase of an additional 2 000 tons, and is showing interest in New Zealand beef and lamb

Mrs. Nixon Does Own Laundry on Long Tour

WASHINGTON (UP)—Mrs Richard M Nixon, wife of the vice president, is putting to good use on the round-the-world trip with her husband a trick she learned during the 1952 campaign.

She packed several dozen individual packages of washing powder to do her own laundry. The small packages pack easily and are less likely to spill than larger containers.

DOCTORS' OUTLOOK BLEAK

CONCORD, N. H. (UP) — It's estimated that 174 300,000 apples will be picked in New Hampshire this season. The crop, of approximately 1,162.000 bushels, is the third largest in New Hampshire's history. The harvest will provide enough apples to allow 348 for every resident of the state.

Marriage Mender Calls Money Top Cause of Divorce

CHICAGO (UP) — Judge Julius H. Miner," mender of broken marriages," believes money problems account for more than 60 per cent of divorces.

Sexual incompatibility is "very infinitesmal" in its contribution to broken homes, he said.

Miner, a judge of the Cook County Superior Court, has been credited with saving hundreds of marriages through reconciliations He is the author of Illinois' new "cooling off" divorce law, which he hopes will help save more marriages.

Financial troubles often lead directly to legal justifications for divorce, Judge Miner said.

It happens this way.

"The man makes just barely enough money to make ends meet The wife wants a new dress but he can't afford it. She starts to nag It gets unbearable for him. He hits her. That's cruelty. So she's got grounds for divorce.

"Or maybe money problems lead him to the tavern every night. That's drunkenness.

"Or the man can't face the burden of financial arguments. He leaves home and it's desertion."

"Lack of character" in a wide variety of forms is in second place as a home-breaker, Miner said In this category he puts "aloofness, selfishness, domination, and callousness."

Other reasons for divorce are only minor, Judge Miner said.

"Sex is highly exaggerated. Not even as many as five per cent of divorces can be blamed on bad sex relations," he said

Differences in religion also have a small role as a home destroyer, Miner said. "If a difference in religion has become so important that it makes the man and wife want a divorce, something much deeper is behind the dispute," Miner said.

Miner's new "cooling off" divorce law went into effect in Illinois courts July 1. A resident of the state who wants a divorce, or a legal separation or annulment, must file a "declaration of intention" to sue with the court clerk and wait 60 days before the action may be entered

During this period Judge Miner talks to each couple in his chambers, first separately, then to the husband and wife together.

Often he gives them a tongue-lashing

"I think you're just too arrogant," he told one wife. "You'd better give him another chance. After all, it's not going to be a cinch finding another man who'll want to support those two children"

Miner said 75 per cent of the couples he talks to go back home together to make another try.

Judge Miner has no formula for happy married life "Mrs. Miner and I have our fights," he told a couple, "but there are the children to think of (the Miners have three) so we just stick it out and soon the argument is forgotten."

Washington's Uniform Cleaned For First Time in 170 Years

WASHINGTON (UP)—The uniform George Washington wore when he resigned his commission at Annapolis has "gone to the cleaners" for the first time in 170 years.

The buff-and-white uniform coat breeches, and vest long have been among the most prized possessions of the Smithsonian Institution's historical collection. When it was decided to move them to a new display the opportunity — and the problem—of cleaning them arose.

The uniform was tailored of the finest domestic material available at the time—so fine, in fact, that it shows almost no deterioration. Inevitably, however, fine dust particles have worked their way into the fabric—each particle acting as a tiny razor cutting the fine fibers when the cloth is agitated in any way.

The institution considered it unwise to allow the uniform out of the building to be cleaned by professional dry cleaners The fabric could not be rubbed or sponged because of the risk of damage.

It was finally decided to use an organic solvent into which the garments were raised and lowered gently. The cleaning process over, the uniform was laid out carefully on white blotting paper to dry. It was not pressed for fear of steam damage or pressure.

The Smithsonian received the uniform 70 years ago from the Patent Office, which had received it in turn as a bequest.

Mendel L Peterson, the institution's curator of history, reports that although the material is the finest produced in America at the time, the uniform is not up to the quality of those worn by British generals who fought in the Revolution. The British wore beautifully tailored scarlet regalia which in comparison, makes the blue coat the buff breeches and vest of Washington's uniform look almost plain.

The coat is of woolen broadcloth with buff trimming for the lapel and coat tail. The lining is woolen with mohair stiffening, excepting the sleeves, which are lined with linen.

In its new setting the uniform is now displayed as a unit together with Washington's mess chest and sword. The chest, supposedly used by the General in the field, contains tin plates, a meat platter, knives, forks, spice and condiment containers, and bottles In one of the bottles is a little crude salt — perhaps evaporated sea salt for the crystals are irregularly shaped—remnants of that actually used by Washington.

The sword was Washington's favorite Known as a "hanger' because it was designed to hang from the belt, the short sword is silver-mounted and has an ivory grip. Stamped on the scabbard is the name of the manufacturer, J. Bailey, Fishkill, N. Y.

Gruenther's Mind Holds Vital Facts

PARIS (UP)—Secrets the public didn't hear at Britain's Farnborough air show are locked in NATO's most spy-proof "file"—five-foot, eight-inch Alfred Maxmillian Gruenther, 54, supreme commander of the allied armies, fleets and warplanes in Europe

Thrust figures on jet engines which may not be fully developed for months are stacked neatly, accurate to the tiniest decimal point in the photographic mind of the American general

Plane performances, cost estimates and production rates on Britain's aviation industry are locked behind the smile on Gruenther's favorite "file," his head, along with the ages of the Italian defense minister's six children, the pass in northern Norway he looked at for a few seconds and can draw from memory on a blackboard, and more hard statistics than any other single general can remember in the Atlantic coalition of 14 allies

Gruenther can remember notes he scrawled on the margins of memos written in 1948—and recall the date he scribbled down his ideas as well as the date the note was written

He has squelched French complaints about lagging British coal production with replies detailing tonnages mined per month in Welsh coal fields, where the coal was shipped, and whether it was stored

An aide who suggested the supreme commander should refer to the European ally as the Netherlands rather than Holland received a famous "Gruenthergram" in reply, referring him to a 500-page volume and directing him to turn to page 287.

On that page of a book Gruenther had scanned years before was this sentence—"If you call this country Holland the people do not mind at all"

The general also is a lover of "gadgets" One of these is known as Gruenther's "eight ball" which is on his desk It was given to him by Clare Boothe Luce, U S ambassador to Rome. Gruenther "consults" this cloudy crystal ball when asked important questions and laughingly passes on the "answers" he "finds" in it.

Trouble in Korea

TOKYO (UP)—The food situation in North Korea is so bad that in some cases the Communists have waived all taxes for some hungry peasants and told them they do not have to repay seed loans. This was disclosed in a recent Peiping broadcast, which quoted a dispatch from Pyongyang, the North Korean capital

"The crops reaped by some peasants even fell short of their own needs," the broadcast said.

95 Carloads Used Each Year

Lot of Chemicals Needed To Soften Marion Water

By JOHN ROBSON

More than 95 carloads of chemicals are purchased by the Marion Water Co each year They are used to make the well water safe for drinking and to reduce the degree of hardness by about 80 per cent

L Otis Porter, manager of the company, explained the water in this area, when it first comes from the wells of the company is about the hardest in the country If it were not softened he said the amount of soaps and detergents used by people in the city would be great

Hardness in water is caused by dissolved minerals Were the water not softened by soda ash and lime or some other method these minerals would form thick coatings on water heaters and utensils when heated

WATER FROM the 15 different wells in the company's system varies in hardness from a low of 560 parts to a high of 974 parts of hardness for each million gallons Chemists figure 17 1 parts of hardness per million gallons equal one grain of hardness per gallon

Under terms of the franchise agreement with the city of Marion no water pumped into the system is to contain more than eight grains of hardness per gallon or 136 parts per million gallons

The average hardness of the water before it is treated Porter said is about 700 parts per million gallons or almost 41 grains per gallon To reduce this degree of hardness to the eight grains per gallon is required by law lime and soda ash must be added to the water before it is pumped into the city

CHEMISTS he pumping rate vary the amounts of chemical about ever who hour As the water flow into the city system adjustments must be turned on or off to keep the flow at a fixed over rate With the addition or subtraction of another well the hardness varies

No two wells at the station produce water with the same degree of hardness For that reason as wells are put on or off tests must be made to determine the average degree of hardness in the raw water basin the place where the water is first pumped, before treating

After the results of the test are known, chemists are able to add the necessary amounts of chemicals

Porter said use of water in the city from only the well with the highest degree of hardness would result in a cost of about $95 per million gallons for softening

If, though it were possible to use only water from the well with the least degree of hardness the cost would be $30 48 per million gallons for softening

WITH THE COMBINATION of water from many different wells the cost varies from week to week Porter cited as an example the first week in October, when the cost for softening the water was $1 400 for the week an average of $58 70 per million gallons

Along with the lime and soda ash used in the softening process chlorine is added to conform to the law of the state health department Porter said the company here uses about 800 or 900 pounds of the chlorine gas in a month

This is to add to the purity of the water Lime and soda ash are themselves purifying agents but the law requires the use of chlorine as an added safeguard.

THE LAW ALSO requires a certain number of checks and analyses of the water to determine if bacteria growth is present During one week Porter said the company chemists make about 77 analyses of water from both the source and different spots throughout the city

In addition to the checks made by company chemists the city also makes a regular analysis to determine if the company is meeting softening standards set up under terms of the franchise ordinance The results of the city's test are read to city council at least once a month

'Taint So, Says Working Girl

Your Husband Too Tired After Work?

By JEAN MACAULAY

Hush, children, dear daddy is relaxing—dear daddy who works so hard that the sitting room must be a silence room when he comes home worn out from making money to pay the bills.

What nonsense!

If you are a misled wife and mother, put the infants to bed and come into the kitchen while I draw you a true picture—one which you know yourself if you have been a working girl, but one you may have since forgotten while learning the demanding and exacting business of running a home.

And running a home is a full-time job by any standards. "A full-time job?" That man of the house doesn't know the meaning of the phrase. He only works to a set schedule of hours.

Now don't indicate to me the quietly closed door and explain in a whisper, "Poor dear, he works so hard he's exhausted when he gets home at night." If you do, I'll bellow in a voice the poor dear is bound to hear: "Exhausted doing what that's more than you're doing?"

—:—

THE PICTURE I draw as we wash up is the husband, "the genius," at work. I work with these 'geniuses,' these breadwinners. I meet his type all day in offices, at work benches, in shops and restaurants.

He travels to work—with and in company. Whatever his job he arrives to find desk, work bench or counter cleared and ready for action. No cleaning up here, no dusting or scrubbing. He exchanges greetings with his work - a - day cronies (more companionship).

We'll give him the benefit of the doubt and say that he puts in a really good two hours' work till midmorning. Then comes the coffee break. Listen to him as he gathers round with his pals, and it seems he's been storing up conversation in the silence room at home for this period.

Another taste of work till lunchtime.

AFTER LUNCH, another taste of work till midafternoon; then another cup of coffee with tongue released and conversation flowing. Now for a final spurt at desk or workbench and it's time to go home. From this point, most wives can take up the story.

Poor dear, he is exhausted. Poor daddy uses up so much energy gossiping with his colleagues and-or traveling companions that he is tired out when he gets home.

But as a sister worker who does a day's work and loves to take shelter from domestic chores in the great illusion of exhaustion, don't think I'm exposing the bluff thoughtlessly. Oh, no, I'm fond of a cosy chair and a ready-cooked meal myself.

And I believe that if a person does an outside job, he shouldn't be expected to do an inside one, too.

But if the breadwinner is eavesdropping at the kitchen door, he'll realize that I consider any evening is a good time to make resolutions. Never mind the New Year.

—:—

THE RESOLUTIONS a wife would like her husband to make right now—and keep for always—would read something like this:

I will spend at least one hour an evening talking to her.

I won't turn on the radio or television in the room without asking if she wants to listen to the program.

I will ask my wife if she's had a busy day.

I'll help her to wash up the dinner dishes.

I will take home a box of chocolates (any size) once a week.

And finally:

I will say to her some of the things I wish the boss would say to me.

FROGMAN HITS THE JACKPOT. William C. Loeffler (left) shows Sylvester Ahola the two slot machines he discovered while exploring an abandoned quarry at Gloucester, Mass. Loeffler did a little more exploring with a hammer and discovered $27 in nickels and quarters inside the machines. The one-armed bandits are believed to have been hastily tossed into the quarry years ago, just before a raid.

U.S. Schools Fail, Educator Declares

CHICAGO (UP)—American education is deteriorating rapidly, according to Lyle M. Spencer, president of Science Research Associates, Inc.

"If public schools were a business, we would say we have a giant blue chip concern, in which millions of investors have sunk their money, that has lost its skill in capturing the imagination of the American consumer and is gradually losing big chunks of its market to younger and more vigorous competitors," Spencer said.

In a recent talk to Midwest educators, he piled five black marks against the public school system.

1. Teachers' pay has risen only about 60 per cent as fast as other wages in the past 10 years.

2. Teachers are quitting their profession at an "unprecedented rate." Sixty thousand left in the past year to go into other fields where they had no specialized training. "This has never happened in any other profession."

3. Teaching trainees are "at the very bottom of the intellectual ladder" of persons training for professional careers.

4. Teachers have low morale. "If private business showed such low morale, we as consultants would say they had a desperate personnel situation requiring a total overhaul."

5. The percentage of the national income spent for public education has dropped 45 per cent in the past 25 years and is still declining "at an accelerating rate."

Red Roses Are Choice Of Ex-President Truman

HOUSTON, Tex. (UP) — When Harry S. Truman buys flowers for his wife, chances are he'll buy Talisman roses. For his daughter Margaret, it's usually red roses.

Tom Cairns Jr., Independence, Mo., florist reported on the former president's choice at a florists' convention here.

"Mr. Truman rarely wears a flower himself," he added. "If he buys anything, it'll be a white carnation."

Another florist, Hank McCullough of Beverly Hills, Calif., said Joe DiMaggio usually sends Marilyn Monroe hybrid Vanda orchids imported from Honolulu. Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis both usually order red and white anthuriums for their wives, he added.

It is believed the Chinese were first to produce an alloy of nickel, copper and zinc which they called "paktong," but which was later called German silver and is now called nickel silver.

Jack-O'-Lantern Pie Pleases Children

Nonfat Dry Milk Powder Forms Special Feature Of Tasty Recipe

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Kids carving jack-o lanterns out of pumpkins While they're busy and out of the way, surprise the small fry by making Jack o Lantern Pie It's a pie that will delight the hearts of hobgoblins and other imps on All Hallows Eve!

There's a special feature to this recipe that older celebrants of Halloween will enjoy It's made with low calorie nonfat dry milk powder instead of cream You whip the nonfat milk and fold it into the spiced pumpkin filling and achieve a texture that's smooth as velvet Such a light and airy dessert tops off a holiday meal delightfully

The vanilla wafer crumb crust of this pie is so easy to prepare and nonfat dry milk powder is also used in it too to step up nutrients Or use a standard graham cracker crumb or Brazil nut crust The Jack o-Lantern face is made of Brazil nut slivers

JACK-O'-LANTERN PIE—Brazil nuts provide the features.

JACK-O'-LANTERN PIE

Ingredients 1 envelope unflavored gelatin 2 cup cold water, 1 cup mashed pumpkin (canned), 6 tablespoons sugar, teaspoon cinnamon ¾ teaspoon salt 3 tablespoons molasses ½ cup water 1 tablespoon lemon juice 1 3 cup non-fat dry milk powder 9-inch Vanilla Wafer Crust Brazil nut slivers

Method Sprinkle gelatin over ¼ cup cold water to soften Mix pumpkin sugar, cinnamon, salt and molasses in saucepan Cook over medium heat until mixture begins to boil, remove from heat Add softened gelatin, stir until gelatin dissolves Chill mixture until slightly thickened Pour 1-3 cup water and 1 tablespoon lemon juice into a 1 quart bowl sprinkle nonfat dry milk powder over surface and beat with rotary beater at high speed until stiff, about 5 to 10 minutes. Fold whipped nonfat milk into slightly thickened pumpkin mixture Pour into chilled Vanilla Wafer Crust chill until firm — 2 to 3 hours To make hobgoblin face on top of filling use slivers of Brazil nuts to outline eyes nose and mouth

VANILLA WAFER CRUST

Ingredients 1 cup finely crushed vanilla wafer crumbs 4 tablespoons nonfat dry milk powder 2 tablespoons sugar 3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine

Method Mix Vanilla wafer crumbs nonfat dry milk powder and sugar Stir in melted butter blend well Press mixture evenly and firmly around sides and bottom of a 9-inch pie plate chill

Caribbean Area Given Boost by Airline Travel

MIAMI Fla (UP)—Americans are still opening new travel frontiers in the sunny Caribbean more than 250 years after Columbus discovered the long chain of stepping-stone islands between North and South America

The single ticket all-expense sun cruise by air is one of the latest ideas to encourage Americans to travel southward One ticket includes air and ground transportation hotels meals, and sight-seeing

A recent experiment in this type of Caribbean air travel was undertaken by Resort Airlines Inc on a grand scale A "Caribbean Caravan" flight of two weeks to 9 places in the Caribbean area was offered and company officials reported customer response was enthusiastic

The sun cruise stopped at Ciudad Trujillo San Juan St Thomas Martinique Port of Spain Caracas Curacao, Port au-Prince and Montego Bay

The world has about 97 cities with more than half a million inhabitants

George, City's Pet, To Be Remembered

MANHATTAN BEACH, Calif. (UP) — Residents of this Los Angeles suburb have made careful preparations for that tragic day when death comes to 16 year-old George their beloved mutt

George is the post office mascot and has worked there since 1939 Citizens noticed he was declining, and Rotarians took the lead by borrowing a leaf from Hollywood's book to make sure George wouldn't be forgotten

Arthur Winsworth a contractor, cast the large tan dog's footprints in a cement block which, complete with date and identification, was installed on the sidewalk in front of the post office

Early records show George was picked up as a stray on a loitering rap but was given a home by a sympathetic woman Then he began meeting all mail trucks and carriers as they returned from their appointed rounds

George, something of a civic project is maintained by numerous residents because of his popularity—not because of any neglect by his owner.

His personal doctor Dr C C Sundstrom pitches him up for free explaining it's his civic duty Cost of [illegible] sometimes when he was younger and gayer During a month long hospitalization he howled until he was brought mail sacks to lie on

Unmuzzled dogcatchers picked him up twice and were nearly subjected to mob violence by citizens who freed George on bail

There's a feeling that when George has barked greetings to his last mail truck the post office flag should fly at half staff

It probably will

QUITE A SWITCH

READING MATTER

BAR HARBOR Me (UP)—Most people can read with interruption for six hours without suffering eye strain or fatigue according to a report by Dr Leonard Carmichael, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution at a seminar at the Roscoe B Jackson Memorial Laboratory here He based his findings on an experiment in which eye movements of 40 persons were studied during two six hour reading periods

Scientists Lost Interest After 10-Year Delay

U.S. Atomic Power Project Launched Without Many of Original Sponsors

(The writer, former managing editor of the Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists, has been active in atomic education since 1945.)

By MICHAEL AMRINE

WASHINGTON (NANA — The statement from the Atomic Energy Commission last week that we are dealing ourselves into the atomic power race as well as the atomic arms race was greeted with applause from atomic scientists throughout the country.

In the statement the commission announced, to those in the know that it had definitely made up its mind about issues behind the scenes some of which had been hanging fire for years. For example it has put on the shelf the idea of building the first power plants with two purposes in mind —making bomb material at the same time they make power. The big plant the commission now plans to build will be solely a power plant and thus will provide a real yardstick for measuring the costs of a plant to make power, and power alone.

But observers cannot help wondering whether the commission will now be willing and able to attract back in the fold some atomic power enthusiasts who left it in the years when the commission was dragging its feet on power and unable to make the decision to push all out for the peaceful potential of the atom.

SECRECY DOES NOT permit telling the whole story, by any means, but Dr. Harold C. Urey the Nobel prize-winner, world-famous for his separation of heavy hydrogen from ordinary hydrogen in the 30's, has been urging for years the investigation of a certain kind of atomic power system. It would use his discovery — heavy water —as a moderator to slow down the chain reaction. Ordinarily the commission builds another type of reactor.

Other countries are now building heavy water reactors. Dr. Urey recently wrote: "It does seem to me that the development of atomic energy for peacetime purposes has been rather slow in this country and I think it may be that if we are not careful, there are some other countries in the world that will develop this subject faster than we do. It seems to me rather remarkable that a type of atomic energy plant proposed over 10 years ago should require 10 years in order to get the first power plant operating."

Another atomic pioneer who left the commission was Professor Farrington Daniels who had a crew at Oak Ridge at the end of the war doing research and design on a power reactor. When this writer visited him in 1946 he and his staff were quite enthusiastic but a short time later the whole project was abolished. Of him, Urey recently wrote: "At the end of the war Professor Farrington Daniels was enthusiastic about a type of power reactor. I am unable to judge the merits of this reactor, but I do know that it was an attempt to avoid the Swiss watch type of reactor and to make one where the addition of fuel could be made cheaply. This reactor was killed in the years following the war and there has been no public discussion of the reasons. I will not be satisfied that the action was justified until a public discussion of the problem is possible."

ANOTHER PIONEER—and one whose ideas have proved useful in every field of atomic energy—is Dr. Leo Szilard the Hungarian physicist who led in bringing in the first chain reaction and starting the original bomb project.

Disgusted with the lack of imagination shown by the Army's project and the peacetime project which followed, Dr. Szilard not only left the government but for all practical purposes the field of nuclear physics and returned to the study which was his first love as a youth—biology. He is now a distinguished leader of biologists. Scientific meetings, but any rank ing physicist will tell you there is no one working in peacetime power who surpasses Szilard in the ability to "think 20 years ahead of the rest of us."

In Salt Lake City, Utah close to the bomb testing grounds but no longer with the AEC, is Dr. Lyle B. Borst, one of the original handful who started the wartime atomic project. He has been advocating various power ideas for years—a few years back when he was in charge of the big atomic reactor at Brookhaven National Laboratory he wanted to put a power "attachment" on that reactor. This would not have been a true power plant for the reactor was built for research purposes and the conservatives said it would be merely a toy. Borst and his engineers thought it would at least have provided some atomic power engineering experience. Even then five years ago Borst was not unmindful of the fact just now opening the eyes of the commissioners—the U. S. is in an atomic power race as well as an arms race.

SITTING IN AN OFFICE a few blocks from the AEC, where he manages his private business as a scientific consultant, is the man whose hands pulled out the control rods on the first sustained chain reaction—Dr. George Weil. For [illegible] within the commission, where he was once assistant director of reactor development. Weil fought for the idea of a genuine power reactor built for that single purpose of measuring costs of atomic power.

Time and again Weil urged on the authorities what he told the joint committee on atomic energy a year ago in a report: "Someone must build and operate a nuclear power plant, we will never solve the problems by engineering and research alone — we must have actual experience."

Now we are approaching the point at which the boys from the bicycle shop were in 1903—we are so to speak going to try out a machine—we are leaving for Kitty Hawk.

But some of the old-timers are asking: "Aren't we leaving out something? Where are the Wilbur and Orville Wrights who tried to tell us when we would not listen?"

They might even try a pun and say: A lot of the wrong brothers are still aboard.

Women's Feet Growing Larger, Industry Says

NEW YORK (UP) — Today's woman travels on a firmer foundation than her sister of a generation ago.

Shoe manufacturer Herman Delman says the most popular size today is 6-B, most of our mothers wore 4-B. Feet are expanding he said, because they're used more for walking.

"The small foot just isn't fashionable any more," Delman said. Women would rather be comfortable than vain."

Record Revenue Produced in Ohio's Outdoors Program

Ohio's outdoors of fish game forests and parks have broken all previous records in producing revenues during the fiscal year 1953 the state treasurer's office announced today.

The use of these natural resources paid off to the amount of $4,451,197.43. This figure is the total of all revenues received from the various divisions of the Department of Natural Resources.

Fishermen and hunters were the biggest contributors to the pot. Fishing license fees in fiscal 1953 brought in $1,139,173.22 — an increase of $78,291.22 over 1952. Hunters paid $1,346,995.45 in 1953 for their regular licenses, $56,614.20 more than in 1952.

Other samples of income from natural resources were:

Deer licenses $79,405.00

Lake Erie fishing licenses $56,266.95

Hunting fines $30,775.30

Fishing fines $19,362.60

Sale of Ohio Conservation Bulletin $19,452.42

Reclamation activities in private fees produced receipts of $176,003.22.

The Division of Forests and Parks gained in sub-[illegible] land rent. Fees [illegible] compared [illegible]

Sales of timber, timber products, Christmas trees and other products by the Forestry Division totaled a total of $359,156.74.

Folding Doors Saving Closet Space in Homes

CHICAGO (UP) — Many of the homes currently on display feature folding closet doors as space saving devices.

The folding doors are designed to open and shut decorators say and have the advantage of allowing open [illegible] door way or closet only instead of merely half the opening, as with sliding doors.

Several types of doors are demonstrated but one of the most popular is a new style made of narrow vertical slats of northern basswood woven together with hard twine to form a flat wood fabric.

Designers say the tiny space between the basswood slats permit continuous closet ventilation guarding against dampness and mustiness.

The doors are available in natural wood to be finished at the installation or a variety of colors.

Brass Beds Make Comeback in U.S.

CHICAGO (UP) — Grandma's brass bed is back in style.

Brass and ornamental iron beds have made a comeback coincident with the general trend toward more metal in home furnishings, the National Association of Bedding Manufacturers reports.

But a brass bed can't be hauled from the attic and placed in use without renovation. The association says that a good metal polish followed by a coat of non-yellowing lacquer will do wonders.

An old iron bed with crossed slats can be renovated by removing the shabby paint and giving it a new coat.

High colors such as shocking pink are popular today, the association said. White stresses femininity while dull brass and chrome will suit the more conservative. Pastel shades are appropriate for a master bedroom.

The bed experts said it's bad taste to "decorate" among such surroundings made in Heaven or the new duck wood many of which have coats of polished brass.

LESS WORK, MORE LEISURE FOR THE FUTURE

WHAT WILL THE FUTURE hold for the young "spaceman" in the picture below? Will he get to go aboard that first rocket ship to the moon? One thing is certain—he will have lots of leisure hours in which to get ready for he may well be able to get a week's work done in several hours. More time off is not an idle prediction: One hundred years ago, the average man worked 12 hours a day and a six-day work week. Now he works a 40-hour week, thanks to the development of high-speed, automatic production machinery. Now something new is on the scene—automatic machines formerly used as single units are being banded together in groups to turn out finished products in faster time. Automobile engine blocks, for example, have more than a hundred holes to be drilled. The block used to be moved from machine to machine, but now the separate machines can drill, tap, bore and grind the block in one uninterrupted process. This new idea in industry is called "automation," or the joining of several separate operations into a single process under one control. Automation is made possible through machines with "brains" that enable them to perform intricate operations.

STEVE CANYON

By Milton Caniff

WERE MISS HALL AND MY DAUGHTER NOT NOTIFIED THAT DINNER IS SERVED?
BUT YES, MADAME! THE SECOND TIME ONE CALLED TO THE M'M'SELLES, THERE WAS THE CHATTER OF EXCITEMENT FROM THE CHAMBER OF M'M'SELLE LISE!
AH! HERE YOU ARE, LISE! AND WHAT OF M'M'SELLE HALL?
SHE ENTERS! VOIC!
MILTON CANIFF

American Fliers Teach Jet Pilots

CHAUMONT AIR BASE France (UP)—American instructors at this French air base are teaching pilots of many nations how to fly the jets the United States is giving their governments

Yugoslavs and Italians, Greeks and Portuguese man the cockpits of F-84 Thunderjets to learn their workings There may be Spaniards later

It is an odd school of assorted uniforms

The foreigners are assigned to an American fighter wing using the same F-84 planes given to allies in the mutual defense program

Some 1 800 Thunderjets have been given to NATO Others are being given to Tito It is expected some will be given to Spain

Ground crews also are trained here where the 48th Fighter Bomber Wing is flying about 90 per cent of the missions for the U S 12th Air Force in addition to such other duties as training the foreigners and putting together their own shelter against a second cold winter in the mud

Norwegians are taking a ground course now Italians French Portuguese and Dutch have taken it already They know all about the engines They're trying to learn the speeded up maintenance techniques that permitted the 492 Squadron to shatter a theater record last month by flying more than 1,607 hours

Thirteen Yugoslavs have been graduated from the jet school and sent back to Yugoslavia to wean other pilots away from the old German fighters and Russian Yaks that were the only planes Tito once had

Greeks were the star pupils as far as the American pilots were concerned They casually drive their F-84 s 15 miles an hour faster than they really should

The American pilots were a little worried not too long ago Greek and Italian pilots appeared for a "ball" — fighter pilots' party — complete with decorations The Italians had decorations they got for killing Greeks The Greeks had their own decorations won shooting down Italians when Mussolini attacked them

The atmosphere got a little cooler than usual in the mess the pilots had constructed for themselves But after some wine the former 'enemies' had their arms around each other s shoulders

Ninety-three per cent of all the bituminous coal produced in the U S last year came from nine states—Alabama Illinois Indiana Kentucky Ohio Pennsylvania Tennessee, Virginia, and West Virginia
